内 容 简 介

本书从酒店从业人员的实际工作需要出发进行设计、构思和编写,主要以酒店6个主要部门为依托,分为6个场景单元,每个场景单元又分为若干个子场景单元。每个单元包含了听力、场景对话、基本知识和课堂场景对话、补充阅读等部分。在加强学生的英语沟通能力之外,重在培养学生在酒店若干场景中的听、说能力,并拓展视野和眼界。本书还配有3套试题,供教学之用。

本书主要作为高职高专旅游管理类和酒店管理类专业教材,也可作为职大、夜大、函授和中职旅游类专业的教材,还可作为酒店管理人员、服务人员的培训和工作参考书。

Situational Dialogues

1. Making Rooms Arrangements with a Hotel

(Scene: David Johnson from the Summer Travel Agency telephones Leslie of Room Reservations of Claude Hotel to arrange rooms from 22nd July to 26th July for a meeting group from Australia.)

(L: Leslie, D: David Johnson)

L: Claude Hotel. Reservations. Leslie speaking. How can I help you?

- D: This is David Johnson from Summer Travel Agency.
L: Oh, Mr. Johnson, what can we do for you this time?
D: We'll have a meeting group from Australia, and I'm calling to arrange the accommodations in your place.
L: How many members, please?
D: There'll be 30 members.
L: OK. And their arrival and departure dates?
D: They will be arriving on Friday, 22nd July and leaving on Tuesday, 26th July.
L: That'll be four nights. What type of rooms would they like?
D: Fifteen twin-bed rooms, please.
L: How will they be arriving? Do you want us to offer pick-up service?
D: No, thanks. They will arrive by air. Our tour escort will meet the group at the airport.
L: OK. The contracted room rate for twin-bed rooms is 680 yuan per night, including breakfast.
D: That's right.
L: Do you pay everything?
D: No. We'll give our guests vouchers and we only pay the value on the voucher. Other expenses must be settled by the guests themselves.
L: I see. We'll send you a fax confirmation about reservation later.
D: Thank you for your help. Goodbye.
L: Thanks for calling, Mr. Johnson. We hope to be of any help to you again. Goodbye.

2. Making a Fit Room Reservation

(Scene: A clerk named Zhang Li of Claude Hotel is answering a call from Mostaq Missouri who would like to book hotel rooms in the Claude Hotel.)

- (Z: Zhang Li, M: Mostaq Missouri)
Z: Good morning. Claude Hotel. Can I help you?
M: Good morning. Have you got any vacancies for the nights of 22nd and 23rd? I'd like to make a reservation for the two nights.
Z: All right. Single or double room?
M: Double room, please.
Z: Let me check... Yes, there is a double room available.
M: Is that with or without bath?
Z: It's a room with shower and toilet.
M: That sounds fine. Is there air-conditioning?
Z: Certainly, sir.
M: How much will it be for one night?
Z: Let me see. A double room is 600 yuan per night.

【拓展音频】

M: With breakfast?

Z: Yes, that includes a Chinese or American breakfast and a morning newspaper.

M: Do you accept VISA?

Z: Yes, we do. What time will you be arriving?

M: I will be there around 5:30 p.m. on 22nd.

Z: OK, sir. May I have your name and contact number, please?

M: Yes, my name's Mostaq Missouri. It's India 567-998.

Z: Could you spell that, please?

M: M—O—S—T—A—Q, M—I—S—S—O—U—R—I.

Z: Mr. Mostaq Missouri. A double-room with bath and air-conditioning for the nights of 22nd and 23rd. Is that right?

M: Yes. Thank you.

Z: You're welcome, sir. We look forward to your coming. Goodbye.

3. A Corporate Room Reservation

(Scene: Mr. West of Beijing Foreign Trade Company is calling the Reservations of New Garden Hotel to reserve a suite for seventeen to twenty days.)

(R: Reservationist, W: West)

R: Good afternoon. What can I do for you?

W: Good afternoon. I'm calling from Beijing Foreign Trade Company. Is it possible for me to have a suite?

R: Certainly, can you give me your name please, sir?

W: West, W-E-S-T.

R: Thank you, Mr. West. But by the way, how long will you stay here?

W: I'll stay here for quite a long time.

R: I'm glad you will be staying at our hotel for a long time.

W: How much is the suite, please?

R: Your suite is 860 yuan (RMB) per day.

W: Does that include attendance?

R: Eight hundred and sixty yuan a day, service included.

W: Meals included?

R: Meals are extra, not included.

W: What services come with that?

R: For eight hundred and sixty yuan a day, you will have one bedroom with air-conditioning, a sitting room, a bathroom, a colour TV set, Wireless WiFi, a telephone and a major international newspaper delivered to your room every day.

W: Do I have to pay in advance?

R: Yes, you may pay half of it. The account will be settled later.

W: On which floor is the suite?

【拓展音频】

R: We have reserved two suites for you to choose. One is on the first floor, the other on the thirteenth floor. Both of them have a bathroom and face to the south.

W: What's the difference between them?

R: The conditions and the prices are the same. No difference.

W: Which is quiet? I want a quiet one. I hate noise at night.

R: The one on the thirteenth floor is very quiet. The room number is 1316.

W: I think I'll take the one on the thirteenth floor.

R: OK. And your arrival and departure dates?

W: I don't know, but it could be seventeen to twenty days.

R: Then we can only confirm a room from the 10th to the 27th. I'm afraid we won't be able to guarantee you the room after the 27th.

W: What if there isn't any room then?

R: Don't worry, sir. We can either put you on a waiting list or find you a room in a nearby hotel.

W: Fine, thank you. Goodbye.

4. Reserving Rooms and a Conference Room

(Scene: John Berry on behalf of Mr. Smith of Oxford University is calling Zhang Li from Nelson Hotel to reserve four single rooms with bath for the nights of June 10th to 15th and a conference room for the afternoons of June 12th and 14th).

(J: John Berry, Z: Zhang Li)

Z: Hello, Nelson Hotel.

J: Hello, I'm calling on behalf of Mr. Smith of Oxford University. I'd like to reserve four single rooms with bath for the nights of June 10th to 15th.

Z: Hold on, please... Yes, we have rooms available for those dates. Can you repeat the name, please?

J: In the name of Mr. Smith of Oxford University. Mr. Smith will also require a conference room for the afternoons of June 12th and 14th.

Z: Yes, we can arrange that. For how many hours do you require the conference room and how many people?

J: It's for 8 people, from 3:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Z: Very good. For 8 people, from 3:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

J: That's right. May I have the price for the single rooms and conference room, please?

Z: The single rooms will be US $80 per night. The charge for the conference room will be US $100 for two afternoons. Is that OK?

J: That's fine.

Z: Would you let us have your confirmation of the reservation and a deposit of US $40 as soon as possible?

J: Of course. I'll send them this afternoon.

Z: Thank you. Goodbye.

J: Goodbye.

Advance Reservation

Advance reservation service is provided by the Front Office. The reservationist works at the front desk by the lobby. What the reservationist should do involves answering questions concerning reservations, booking and assigning rooms for guests who request rooms in the hotel. The reservationist also takes reservations, cancellations and revisions, and types and sends out the hotel's letter of confirmation.

There are different ways of making reservations. You can send reservation e-mail to the hotel. You can go directly to the hotel and make reservations in person or call the hotel and make reservations over the telephone. You can also fax the hotel for reserving rooms. Nowadays fax reservation has become more and more popular, for with the fax, the communication is instantaneous.

When a reservationist receives a reservation request, he/she first checks the hotel's booking situation to see if the hotel has any vacancy during the specified period. If there are rooms available, the reservationist would fill out a reservation form and record the information in a reservation diary.

参考译文

预订房间

客房预订服务由前厅部提供,预订员在大厅的前台工作。他的职责包括回答有关预订房间的询问,给有需要的客人订房间和具体安排房间。他还负责办理预订、取消预订、改变预订、打印并寄送确认预订书。

预订房间有多种方式。你可给酒店发邮件预订,可以亲自到酒店预订或给酒店打电话预订,还可以通过传真预订。如今,传真预订日益流行,因为使用传真沟通瞬时完成。

收到预订请求后,预订员首先要查看一下酒店的预订情况,看看在指定的日期内是否有空房。如果有空房,预订员就要填写一份预订单,并把有关情况记录在预订日志中。

1. Fully Booked

(Scene: A guest would like to reserve a single room for September 24th. But the rooms are fully booked on that day. The guest asks the clerk to recommend another hotel in the city center that are not full up.)

Clerk: Advance Reservations. Good morning. Can I help you?

Guest: Yes, I'd like to reserve a single room for September 24th.

Clerk: Just a moment, please. I'm sorry, miss. We are fully booked on that day.

Guest: Oh, that's too bad.

Clerk: Is it possible for you to change your reservation date?

Guest: I'm afraid not.

Clerk: Would you like us to put you on our waiting list and call you in case we have a cancellation?

Guest: Thank you. That's very kind of you. But could you recommend me another hotel which won't be full up?

Clerk: Yes, of course. Where would you rather like to be, in the city center or in the suburb?

Guest: I prefer a place close to the city center because most of our clients' offices are in the downtown business section.

Clerk: In that case, I would suggest that you try International Hotel.

Guest: Do you know the rate per night for a single there?

Clerk: Well, there is a minimum price for off-season stay and a maximum price for peak-season stay. A single with shower at the moment would run you between 380 yuan and 480 yuan.

Guest: I see. One last thing, do you know the telephone number?

Clerk: Yes. It's 500—4305. Shall I call the hotel for you now?

Guest: No, thank you very much. I really appreciate your help. Goodbye.

Clerk: Goodbye, and thank you for calling us.

2. Canceling a Reservation

(Scene: A guest would like to cancel a reservation which is under White's name. The reservation is from September 15th for 3 nights. The clerk helps the guest cancel the reservation.)

Clerk: Room Reservations. May I help you?

Guest: Yes. I'd like to cancel a reservation, because the travel schedule has been changed.

Clerk: That's OK. Could you tell me under whose name was the reservation made?

Guest: White. W—H—I—T—E.

Clerk: And what was the date of the reservation?

Guest: From September 15th for 3 nights.

Clerk: Excuse me, but is the reservation for yourself or for another party?

Guest: It's for my boss.

Clerk: Well, may I have your name and phone number, please?

Guest: Yes, it's Ellen Green, and my number is 245—3971.

Clerk: Thank you, ma'am. I will cancel Mr White's reservation for September 15th for 3 nights. My name is Wang Ying and we look forward to another chance to serve you.

Clerk: Thank you the same, Mr Wang.

Guest: It's my pleasure.

3. Adjusting a Reservation (R: Reservationist, G: Guest)

(Scene: Mr. Dunning calling from Los Angeles has reserved a suite on Oct. 2nd. He would extend his stay in the hotel for two nights. The reservationist helps the guest reserve the suite for two nights from Oct. 2nd to 4th).

R: Advance Reservations. Good afternoon. This is Mary Wang speaking. What can I do for you?

G: This is Mr. Dunning speaking. I'm calling from Los Angeles. I have reserved a suite on Oct. 2nd.

R: Just a minute, sir, I will look through the reservation records. Yes, we do have a reservation for you on that day. Are you calling to confirm it, Mr. Dunning?

G: Not really. I'd like to make an adjustment of my reservation. I know that my business negotiations will last more days than I have planned. I'll extend my stay in your hotel for two nights.

R: Would you please hold the line for a moment? I'll take a look at the hotel's booking record. Yes, sir. You can have the suite for two nights from Oct. 2nd to 4th.

G: That's great. Thank you very much.

R: You're welcome. We are expecting to see you soon.

A Letter—Reserving a Room

Dear sir,

From the local tourist office I have learnt that Red Rose is a famous center for holiday. On a list of recommended hotels, I found the name of your hotel.

My family and that of my friend wish to spend about a fortnight at your resort. We require two double rooms, each with a private bath, and one twin-bedded room with a shower.

Would it be possible to let us have these rooms for the period from July 5th to July 19th? We would prefer half-board if possible. Kindly let us know your items.

I am looking forward to an early reply.

Yours faithfully,
(signature)

一封信——预订房间

尊敬的先生:

我从本地旅行社获悉,红玫瑰是著名的假口活动中心。在一份介绍饭店的目录上,我看到了贵店的名字。

我们和朋友两家人希望在贵店住大约两个星期的时间。因此,我们需要两间带洗澡间的双人房间和一间备有两张床铺的带淋浴的房间。

不知能否为我们提供上述房间,时间是从7月5日到7月19日。如果可能的话,我们要半膳(提供一日两餐)服务。请告知你们的价格。

盼早复函。

Registration

A receptionist's job is to welcome and register the guest information. When a guest with a hotel reservation arrives at the front desk, the receptionist greets the guest and then gives out a registration form. When you arrive at a hotel, don't forget to fill out the form.

When you are filling out the form, make sure that such information items as your full name, address, nationality, forwarding address, the purpose of your visit and signature are entered correctly and legibly. When you are abroad, information about your passport number, place of issue and date also need to be recorded.

The receptionist will also check and make sure that such reservation details as room type and departure date are not changed. The receptionist is also responsible for answering any question from the telephones, taking messages for the guests and handling complaints from dissatisfied guests.

When you check in as a leader of large tour groups and conference guests, you should handle the registration forms and hand it over to the front desk yourself.

住宿登记

接待员的职责是欢迎客人，帮助他们办理登记入住手续。当已预订房间的客人来到前台时，接待员首先向客人问好，然后把入住登记表递给客人填写。当你入住酒店时，不要忘记填写登记表。

填完表格以后，你还要检查一下，要做到姓名(全名)、地址、国籍、转寄地址、来访缘由和签名等内容都填写得正确、字迹清晰。若是出国，还要填写护照号码、发照地点及日期等项目。

接待员还需检查并需确认房间类型及离店时间等项目没有更改。此外，接待员还负责回答客人的电话询问、替客人记录留言、处理客人因不满而提出的各种意见等。

如果你是旅游团领队或者某会议的客人，在登记入店时，要亲自填写登记表，并交给前台。

Banks in the West

In western countries, the banking industry is highly developed and advanced in terms of bank operational efficiency and scope of service. Customers generally follow the rule of "First come, first served". If you go to a bank, remember to stand in an orderly queue behind the yellow line, which is about a meter from the customer at the counter no matter how few the customers are. Do not go to the counter until the clerk says, "Next, please!"

The banking operations cover a wide range of services, including checking account, savings account, traveler's account, cashier's order, cashier's check, credit card, safety box, etc. Rather than a seal, customers generally use their signatures, which are, in fact, more reliable and hard to imitate.

西方的银行

在西方国家中,无论从银行的服务效率还是服务范围来看,银行业都是十分先进,高度发达的。顾客们一般遵守“先到先接受服务”的原则。到了银行,无论顾客有多少,都要牢记应在黄线外排队等候。黄线一般距离站在柜台前的顾客一米左右。只有当银行职员喊“下一位”的时候,才可以走近柜台。

银行业服务内容十分广泛,包括活期存款账户、储蓄存款账户、旅行账户、现金汇票、现金支票、信用卡、贵重物品保险箱等。顾客常用签名,而不是用印章,因为签名难以模仿,更为可靠。

B: Good afternoon, madam. Welcome to the Lake View Garden Hotel.

G: Thank you.

B: How many pieces of luggage do you have?

G: Just two pieces.

B: Two suitcases. Is that correct?

G: Yes. That's all.

B: I'll show you to the Front Desk. This way, please. I will put your suitcases by the Information Desk over there.

G: I see, thanks.

B: A bellman will show you to your room when you have finished checking in.

G: OK. Fine.

B: Please enjoy your stay.

2. Introducing Hotel Facilities

(Scene: The bellman carries the baggage for Mr. and Mrs. White and tell them about the hotel services.)

(B: Bellman, W: Mr. White, M: Mrs. White)

B: Good afternoon, madam and sir, I'm the bellman.

W&M: Good afternoon.

B: Very glad to have you here. Let me carry your baggage. This way, please.

(They are going to the elevator entrance.)

W: Could you tell us something about your hotel services?

B: Certainly, sir. Our hotel is a four-star hotel. There are over 400 international standard rooms which are very comfortable. If you want to have a walk, you can go to the garden of the hotel. It's very relaxing there.

W: That sounds good.

B: Also, there is a recreation center on the fourth floor. You can play billiards, table tennis and bowling.

W: Where can I listen to some music?

B: There is a music teahouse where you can enjoy both classical music and modern music. We also have saunas and after-sauna rooms. Guests can relax with soft drinks or snacks there.

W: How about other services?

B: Also available are a beauty salon, a barber shop, a souvenir shop...

W: Have you got an indoor swimming pool here?

B: Yes, it's on the top floor.

(Now they are at the elevator entrance.)

Here we are, please take this elevator to the eighth floor. I'll take the baggage elevator and get your baggage up to your room.

W: Thank you. See you then.

B: See you, Mr. and Mrs. White.

Guest: Thank you.

Staff: Could you tell me your room number?

Guest: It's Room 1106.

Staff: This way, please. We shall take the lift on the right.

Guest: All right. The hotel looks like a maze.

Staff: Yes, the hotel has a lot of rooms and the corridors are twisting.

Guest: Very interesting.

Staff: Is it your first time here?

Guest: Yes, very first. By the way, do you have a bar?

Staff: Yes, we have a bar and a cafe on the third floor. Besides, we have a barber's shop, post service, a billiard room and a bowling alley.

Guest: Very good. Where can I send e-mail and fax?

Staff: You may do these in our Business Center. Oh, here we are, Room 1106.

Guest: Thank you for your help. Wait a moment. Eh, this is the tip for you.

Telephone Service

Telephone service is very important in modern society. Information for phone calls can be found in the Phone Book, which is easily available near phones everywhere and provides local information, national dialing, international dialing and phone numbers for the area.

For international calls, you can find the code for the country you want in the Phone Book. The time of the day is particularly important for the call because in most countries there is a period when you can make calls at a cheaper rate. These periods are at a different time of the day in different countries. You can find information about international time difference in a post office or in some big hotels.

Complaining of Bad Service

No one enjoys complaining, though some are in the habit of complaining, for it seldom brings positive feelings to oneself—especially when one is traveling abroad. But sometimes do make one unhappy. The most unbearable are:

【拓展知识】

(1) Inefficiency. Inefficiency results from inadequate training of the working staff.

(2) Aloofness. An aloof waiter wears an expression of studied indifference, serving the table with an air of injured dignity. His aloofness makes you feel unwelcome and lose interest in the food and drink.

(3) Over-attentiveness. Over-attentive waiters with effusive greeting, effusive talk about the specialties of the house and the distinguished spirits, eagerness to make recommendations, and frequent appearances are really annoying while you are enjoying the food.

There are several effective ways of complaining. Usually, politely informing the waiters or waitresses of your dissatisfaction could be very effective. When it is really necessary, you can go directly to the manager or other organizations concerned. In general, no business wants to spoil its image because it usually results in loss of profit.

表达对劣质服务的不满

尽管少数人习惯发牢骚,却没有人真正喜欢发牢骚或抱怨,因为抱怨或不满极少能给人带来积极的影响。尤其是在外国旅行时,更是如此。但有时,有些事情的确使人不快。以下几种态度最令人不快,难以接受:

(1) 效率低。效率低主要是由工作人员受到的正规训练不足所致。

(2) 冷面孔。这类服务人员冷若冰霜,服务时一副受委屈的表情。他们的冷淡会使顾客觉得自己不受欢迎,从而失去进餐的胃口。

(3) 过分殷勤。这类服务员常常是过分殷勤,然后滔滔不绝地向你介绍店内的风味大菜和名酒,迫不急待向顾客推荐饭菜。当你进餐时,他又在你面前频频出现,真是令人讨厌。

有几种有效的表达不满的方式。通常,礼貌地告知服务员,说明你的不满就很有效。如果真有必要,你可以向经理或有关部门反映。总的说来,任何商家都不愿损害自身形象,因为那样会带来经济损失。

(Scene: Mr. Bellow is going to the Information Desk with a letter in his hand.)

(R: Receptionist, B: Mr. Bellow)

R: Good afternoon, sir.

B: Good afternoon. Could you please mail a letter for me?

R: Yes. Have you stuck on the stamps yet?

B: No. I need to buy some.

R: (Looking at the letter.)

Is it to San Francisco?

B: Yes. And I'd like to send it by ordinary air mail.

R: (Weighing the letter on the scales.)

Two yuan and sixty fen.

B: Overweight?

R: Yes.

B: Thank you. Here it is.

(Giving the money.)

R: Here are your stamps. Please stick them on together with the air mail sticker on the front of the envelope.

B: All right. One more thing, I want to send a fax to New York. Can you arrange it for me?

R: Oh, yes, sir, We have fax service in our hotel. Would you please go to the business center? You can send your fax there.

B: Well, I'll be going there. Thank you for your information.

R: You are welcome.

2. Introducing Some Scenic Spots

(Scene: The Bellows plan to go around town. The Receptionist gives them some suggestions.)

(R: Receptionist, B: Mr. Bellow, M: Mrs. Bellow)

R: Good morning. Can I help you?

B: Good morning. Today we can afford a whole day for sightseeing. Could you tell us some places of historical interest in Shanghai?

R: Have you ever been Shanghai before?

B: No, this is our first trip here.

R: I'm very pleased to suggest that you go to visit the Yu Yuan Garden and the Jade Buddha Temple, the main attractions in Shanghai. They are often visited by foreign guests.

B: And why are those places so popular?

R: Because they are of typical Chinese national style. The Yu Yuan Garden is not only the pearl of Shanghai, but also called the "No.1 Vista in East China". You can see beautiful pavilions, terraces, rockeries, ponds, as well as buildings decorated with fine brick designs and wood carvings.

B: Good, I'll take some pictures. Then, how about the temple?

R: The Jade Buddha Temple is one of the most famous temples in China. There are two white jade statues of Sakyamuni brought from Burma more than a hundred years ago.

M: Oh, great! We'll have a good chance to feast our eyes.

R: What's more, the construction of the Grand Hall is magnificent.

B: I think I'll enjoy the architecture of the temple, too.

M: Both places sound worth visiting. Henry, let's go.

3. Arranging a Tour Bus

(Scene: The receptionist suggests a guest traveling outside Nanjing by air-conditioned bus)

(R: Receptionist, G: Guest.)

R: Is there anything I can do for you, Miss Watson?

G: Oh, yes. I'd like your advice on a weekend tour for my group of tourists.

R: I'll be delighted to help you. Let me write this down: A 2-day itinerary. What would you like to do most?

G: We want to see some of the famous scenic spots outside Nanjing. But there seems to be so many places to choose from. And we've got only two days.

R: Yes, two days is a bit tight. But you can cover a lot of places if you plan carefully. Are there any particular spots your tourists wish to see?

G: They are interested in some of the most famous scenic spots of Jiangsu province. And if you could arrange a visit to a folk arts and crafts factory, it would certainly be a great treat for them.

R: Let me make sure if I've got it right: you want to visit some scenic spots, for which Jiangsu province is well-known, and also to visit an arts and crafts factory.

G: That's right.

R: For the scenic spots, I would recommend Wuxi Yuantouzhu (or the Turtle-Head Park) and Ling-Shan Big Buddha. It's only 2-hour train ride from here. Then you can visit the famous Wuxi Hui-Shan Clay Figurines Factory. There you can see the artisans making the clay figurines.

G: Do we have to do a lot of walking to get to Yuantouzhu? I'm afraid I have to cut down on walking since my tourists are all a bit old!

R: Well, you don't have to do a lot of walking. Our bus can pick up your group at the gate. Do you want an air-conditioned bus?

G: Oh yes, that's most essential in this kind of heat. And we also need a tour guide.

R: All right. What about lunch? Do you want me to arrange a proper lunch or just packed lunches?

G: A good meal if you can.

R: Well, Lingshan Big Buddha is well known for vegetarian food. They can do you quite a variety of vegetarian dishes.

G: That's great! At least it'll be a new experience for most of us. You'd better tell me something about eating in a monastery so that I know what to tell them. I feel such a fool without knowing what food to expect, and I am the leader.

R: Don't worry. Here's all the information you need. Things like bean curd, bamboo shoots, Chinese mushrooms, ginkgo nuts, cloud fungus, snow fungus, hair vegetable, etc.

G: Good, that's exactly the sort of information I need.

4. Asking the Way

(Scene: A guest asks the receptionist which is the simplest way to the Zhong-Shan Park.)

(R: Receptionist, G: Guest)

R: Good morning. Can I help you?

G: Yes, please. Will you please tell me the simplest way to the Zhong-Shan Park?

R: Yes, of course. The simplest way is by taxi. There is a taxi stand at the entrance here. If you can't find a taxi there, you can always hail one in the street. Shall I get one for you?

G: What are the rates, please?

R: It's 2.40 yuan for every kilometer. It's about 50 yuan to get to the Zhong-Shan Park.

G: Oh, I see. Would you please tell me how I can get there by bus?

R: Yes. You may take bus No.1. But I'm afraid the bus will be very crowded at this time of the day.

G: Oh, I like crowds. They make me warm.

R: Well, in that case, you can walk outside the hotel. Then turn right to Jingling Road, walk along the Jingling Road for about three minutes and the bus stop is right in front of you.

G: All right. Walk outside the hotel. Then turn right to Jin...Jin...What is the road, please?

R: Turn right to Jingling Road. Here, let me write it down for you.

G: No, thank you. I can't read the pinyin system anyway. Well, I think I'll have to resign myself to the taxi fare, then. Goodbye to the warm of the crowd.

The Front Desk

A receptionist, belonging to the front office department, works side by side with the reservations at the front desk by the front hall. In small hotels a receptionist also serves as the bookkeeper, customer service and the advanced reservationist, while in bigger hotels they take over the work of the advance reservation department between 5:30 and 9:30 p.m.

If you come as a guest, a receptionist does your registration. After you are properly registered, the receptionist gives you your room key, tells you your room number, the floor it is on, and the daily room rate. You may get your key card that was prepared while you were completing the registration form. He explains the service to you or informs you of the place where you can find information about the service of the hotel by yourself.

Guest: OK. Thank you.

(Half an hour later.)

Guest: Excuse me. We're leaving today. Can we pay our bills now?

Staff: Certainly, sir. Oh, by the way, I'd like to tell you that the checkout time is 12:00 at noon. Your name and room number, please?

Guest: Andrew Rich in Room 1246.

Staff: Yes, Mr. Rich. How about the charge for the days you shared the room with your friend?

Guest: Please add it to my account.

Staff: Then we'll make out a bill for both of you.

Guest: OK.

Staff: Have you used any hotel services this morning or had breakfast at the hotel dining room, Mr. Rich?

Guest: We just had breakfast at the dining room, but we didn't use any services.

Staff: Fine. I'll need to find out what the charge is on the breakfast... Yes, the total for the six nights is 2,650yuan.

Guest: Oh, I didn't change enough money just now. Can I pay in US dollars?

Staff: Sorry, sir. But you can get your money changed at the Foreign Exchange Counter in our hotel, just over there.

(A few minutes later.)

Guest: Thank you. Here is the money I owe you.

Staff: Thank you, Mr. Rich. Here is your receipt. Have a nice trip.

3. Explaining the Bill

(Scene: A guest thinks the cost looks too high and wants the cashier to explain it.)

Guest: Good morning. Is this desk open?

Cashier: Yes, it is. Can I help you?

Guest: I'm leaving today. Can I see my bill, please?

Cashier: Just a moment, Mr. Baylor. I'll draw up your bill for you. Here is your bill. That's the total cost you owe the hotel.

Guest: This figure looks too high. Could you explain it a little bit?

Cashier: Sure. This is an itemized bill. So it is very easy to spot a mischarge if there exists one. A—P—T—S here stands for apartments your room charge. You stayed here for 5 nights, so the figure is repeated 5 times. Below the room charge are charges for the meals and drinks you put on your tab.

Guest: That's right. I had three drinks and three lunches at the lobby bar. But what is the next figure for?

Cashier: This is the charge for the drinks that you took from the mini-bar in your room.

Guest: Oh, I see. So that's accounted for. What is this figure under the item T—E—L—S—I—D—D?

Cashier: That means Telephone Subscriber International Direct Dialing. That's the charge for your international calls from your room.

Guest: But I only made a couple of calls to my wife and a couple of calls to our Hong Kong office.

Cashier: Mr. Baylor, international calls are rather expensive.

Guest: I know, but all of my calls were made during discount hours.

Cashier: Well, I'm sorry to tell you, sir, that there is no discount rate, or peak rate or any other rate for international calls here in the hotel. There is only one rate, the standard rate.

Guest: That's incredible. But it must be right of you say so. I just didn't expect it to be so expensive to make IDD calls from here. But now I don't have enough cash on me.

Would credit card be all right?

Cashier: What kind are you holding, sir?

Guest: Bank of America Card.

Cashier: I'm sorry, sir. We only accept American express card, Master card and Visa.

Guest: Well, in that case, I want to pay the bill half in cash and half by traveler's cheques.
Would that be all right?

Cashier: Yes, of course.

Guest: Here you are.

Cashier: Thank you. Have a pleasant journey home.

4. Postponing Checking out

(Scene: A guest wants to check out after 5:00 p.m.)

Cashier: Good morning. May I help you?

Guest: Yes, could you tell me what is the latest check out time?

Cashier: Our checking out time is from 11:00 to 12:30 o'clock.

Guest: Well, I planned to check out this morning, but my flight doesn't leave until 7:15 p.m. and I don't want to wait around at the airport all day. Could I check out after 5:00 p.m.

Cashier: Just a moment, please, sir. If we weren't so heavily booked, we could let you have a complimentary room. But now it is peak season and we've got a full house, so if you really want to keep your room this afternoon, we'll have to charge you 50% of the price.

Guest: Never mind, then, can I just leave my luggage somewhere until 5:00 p.m.?

Cashier: Certainly, sir. If you speak to the bellboy, he'll take care of it, but please take all valuables with you.

Guest: I'll do that.

Cashier: We are sorry for the inconvenience. Here is a complimentary coffee voucher. You can have a cup of coffee in our hotel bar on the second floor and spend your time there.
We hope you have a nice time there.

Guest: Thank you very much.

Class Activity Role-Play

Scene One: A guest comes to the Front Desk to check out and he hasn't used any hotel services. He is ready to leave this afternoon and want to pay by bank card.

Scene Two: The guest would like to know the approximate figure of his account so that he can have his money exchanged at the bank. After checking his bill, the guest finds that he didn't change enough money just now. He want to pay in US dollars.

Further Reading

Checking-out

Hotel accounting has many distinctive features because a guest's bills must be entered, or posted, on his or her account as soon as possible. In addition to the charge for the guest's room, there may also be charges resulting from the use of the telephone, the laundry service, the restaurant, and room service. All the financial transactions not only must be posted, but also must be checked for accuracy. This is usually the job of a night auditor, who goes through this mass of figures on the night shift, where there is little activity in the hotel.

Cashiers provide financial services to the customers at the front desk including receiving payment for bills, making change, and exchanging foreign currency. When preparing a guest's bill, the cashier will pay special attention to the following things:

(1) Check if you have paid a reservation deposit. If you have, he/she will deduct the amount of your deposit from the bill.

(2) Check with you if you are entitled to any kind of discount or complimentary rate. If you are, he/she will make the necessary reduction.

(3) Remind you to return your room key to the reception desk before you leave the hotel.

(4) If you settle your account in traveler's checks, the cashier will make sure that you countersign the check in front of him/her. He/She won't accept checks that have already been countersigned.

结账离店

饭店会计业务有许多鲜明的特点,因为客人所有花费必须尽快入账。除了客人的房费外,还有电话费、洗衣费、餐饮费及客房服务费。所有账目不仅要登记入账,还要审核。审核工作一般由夜班审计员完成。他会在饭店业务较少的夜间将所有账目审核一遍。

出纳员的工作是在前台为客人提供财务服务,包括收款、找钱及兑换外币。在为客人结账时,出纳员会特别注意以下事项:

- (1) 查看清楚你是否交过预订金。如果交过,就把预订金从账目中扣除。
- (2) 查看你是否有条件享受折扣或优惠价格。如果有,就扣除应该去掉的数额。
- (3) 提醒你在离店之前把房间钥匙交还给接待处。
- (4) 如果你用旅行支票结账,他将要求你当面在支票上签字,不会接受事先签好了的支票。

Situational Dialogues

1. Introducing the Room to the Guest

(Scene: Robin will meet some friends here and need to arrange some rooms for them. But he wants to see the room first and then decide to choose the right hotel.)

(R: Robin, W: Wendy, T: Tony)

R: Excuse me, I need some rooms tomorrow. But could I check the room before booking?

W: I'm sorry. Usually we do not have such a policy in the hotel. Why do you need to check these rooms?

R: Well, the rooms are for my friends but they are very picky. Therefore, I'd like to confirm that all rooms are nice for them and your service is quite satisfying.

W: I can understand what you are saying. Could you wait for a minute? I will check with my supervisor and arrange this for you.

R: How kind of you to help!

T: I am Tony, at your service, sir. Please follow me to see the room.

R: Thank you. Could you show me the single room first?

T: No problem, this way please.

R: Well, The room is about 20 or 30 square meters in the area. Am I right?

T: Exactly. It is about 25 square meters.

R: Spare blankets lay at the foot of each bed. That is a good idea.

T: Yes, we have many convenient facilities.

R: One of my friends has many requirements for the bathroom. He always spends hours in the bathroom or on the telephone.

T: Every room in the hotel has a private bathroom and they all have good decoration.

R: Good. By the way, will it be convenient to see the standard room now?

T: OK, this way please.

R: I am more concerned about the width of the bed in the standard room.

T: Don't worry about that. The bed is 1.5 meters wide and I think it is enough for one person.

R: Good. Do you have turn-down service in the hotel?

T: Yes, we start clearing up the mess, supplementing necessities from 5:30 p.m. or 6:00 p.m. in the evening.

R: Well, I think your hotel is perfect. I will book some rooms immediately.

2. Showing the Room

(Scene: A clerk named Bill is showing the room to a guest named Clark who visits the hotel for the first time. ~)

(B: Bill, C: Clark)

B: Here is your room, Mr. Clark. After you.

C: Thank you.

B: Shall I draw the curtain for you?

C: OK, thank you. By the way, do you know when room service is available?

B: It's available twenty-four hours a day. And in the first drawer of the dresser, you'll find a brochure with full information about the facilities and services of our hotel.

C: That's great. What kind of restaurant do you have?

B: There is a French café and a Korean barbeque restaurant on the 3rd Floor. And you can also enjoy yourself in the revolving cocktail lounge on the top floor.

C: OK. I think I can really enjoy my day here!

B: Of course. Here is the mini-bar. All the price tags have been already marked on the goods. And here is the water boiler ready for use.

C: That's great. Thanks for your kind introduction. Um...Here's something for you. (Giving tips)

B: That's very nice of you. Thank you. Is there anything else I can do for you?

C: No, thanks.

B: I'm always at your service, Mr. Clark. Have a nice day. Goodbye.

3. Taking the Guest to the Room

(Scene: A clerk named Peter is taking a guest to the room. The guest has many luggage.)

Peter: Good afternoon, Mr. Wang. Welcome to our hotel.

Guest: Oh, how do you know my name?

Peter: The labels on your luggage.

Guest: You are so clever. The label is from the airport.

Peter: Sir, I will show you to your room. Are there all your baggage?

Guest: Yes, could you give me a hand with the baggage?

Peter: Certainly, that is my responsibility.

Guest: Thank you.

Peter: Is there anything valuable or breakable in your bags?

Guest: Yes, there is a bottle of wine in this bag and that bag is full of books.

Peter: Sure, may I have a look at your room card, please?

Guest: Here you are.

Peter: Thank you. Your room is on the tenth floor, please follow me. We go up by the elevator.

Guest: OK.

Peter: This is your room. (Unlocking the door and switching on light.) After you, sir. Do you mind if I put your luggage by the wardrobe?

Guest: Not really.

Peter: If you need anything, just call the reception. The number is 9.

Guest: Thank you.

Peter: You are always welcome.

4. Introducing the Room and the Service in the Hotel

(Scene: Ellen has taken a guest into the room and the guest wants to know the services and the facilities in the room.)

Ellen: Please come in. This is the bathroom and the switch is here.

Guest: The room looks nice. It's comfortable.

Ellen: You are right. Our restaurant serves breakfast from 7 a.m. until 9 a.m. Here is a brochure explaining hotel services. The hot water is supplied round the clock. By the way, the extension number of the floor desk is 1001.

Guest: Thank you. Could you tell me something about the restaurant in your hotel?

Ellen: Sure, there is a French Café and a Korean barbeque restaurant on the third floor. Also we have a Chinese restaurant on the second floor.

Guest: Can I go shopping here?

Ellen: There are a lot of nice shops and boutiques nearby.

Guest: Thank you. That is very nice of you.

Ellen: You are welcome. We have both sauna and massage service in our hotel as well.

Guest: Good. Um...Here is something for you. (Giving tips.)

Ellen: Thank you, but I am afraid we don't accept tips. Is there anything else I can do for you?

Guest: No, thanks.

Ellen: Have a nice day!

Welcoming and Guiding the Guest

Floor service is one important part of working organization in Housekeeping Department, where guests come and hope to be respected and concerned as well. Therefore, the floor attendant plays an important role in hotel service. The guests should be bowed in by the usher. Then the floor attendant needs to introduce the room service and explain the room facilities. Courteous and welcoming staff will leave guests with a good impression and cheerful temper, which speaks for the hotel at the same time.

Each hotel has different decoration or facilities in the room. Meanwhile, the buildings don't follow the same patterns as well. That means the attendant need to show guests the room and pick up their luggage thoughtfully. During the way to the room, the floor attendant should talk to the guest enthusiastically. Some information is useful for the guest such as festivals or promotions.

来宾的迎接与引导

楼层服务是客房部工作组织中的重要部分,客人到达后也希望得到尊重与关心。因此,楼层服务员在此服务中起到了重要的作用。客人需要被指引到房间,然后服务员应该介绍房间服务与设施。员工的礼貌服务会给客人留下美好的印象,使之有一个好心情,同时也会给酒店加分。

每个酒店的房间都会有不同的装修或者设施。同时,每个酒店的建筑格局也是不一样的。这意味着服务员应该周到地带客并帮客人提取行李。在去房间的路上,楼层服务员可以与客人热情地交谈。有些信息对客人也是非常有用的,如酒店节日或促销等。

Situational Dialogues

1. Respond to the Request of Chamber Service

(Scene: A guest is leaving his room when coming across the housekeeper. He asks the housekeeper to do his room.)

(H: Housekeeper, G: Guest)

H: Good morning. May I come through, please?

G: Good morning. It's almost noon now, and our room has not been made up yet. I wonder when you are going to do it.

H: Truly sorry. I'm now on my way to your room as soon as I just finished this one.

G: Really? But I think you could do our room first, since we want to have a nap after lunch.

- H: Well. We always do the check-out rooms first, unless there is a request.
G: What do you mean check-out rooms?
H: A check-out room means guests are leaving the hotel at the end of their stay. We have to get the rooms ready for sale by the front desk.
G: OK. In that case, I can understand. I suppose it's a lot of work for you since it's now the peak season for tourism in this area.
H: Thanks. Our hotel is full nearly everyday. Your room will be ready in half an hour.
G: That's fine.
H: Is your room number 3008?
G: Yes. Well, we are going to have lunch. Thank you.
H: My pleasure. Hope you are having nice stay here.
G: Sure we are. Goodbye.

(C: Chamber maid, M: Mrs. White, W: Mr. White)
C: Housekeeping. May I come in?
W: Yes, please.
C: Good evening, Mr. and Mrs. White. May I do the turn-down service for you now?
M: Oh, thank you. But you see, we are having some friends to celebrate my birthday here. Could you come back later?
C: Certainly, Mr. White, What time would it be convenient for you?
M: Could you come again in three hours?
C: I'm afraid I'll be off then. But I will let the overnight staff know. They will come then.
M: That's fine. Well, our friends seem to be a little late. Would you tidy up a bit in the bathroom? I've just taken a bath and it is quite a mess now. Besides, please bring us a bottle of just boiled water. We'd treat our guests with typical Chinese tea.
C: Yes, Mr. White. I'll bring in some fresh towels together with the drinking water.
M: That's fine.
C: (Having done all on the request.)
It's growing dark. Would you like me to draw the curtains for you?
M: Why not? That would be so cozy.
C: May I turn on the lights for you?
W: No, thanks. I like this atmosphere.
C: Yes, sir. Is there anything else I can do for you?

About Housekeeping

Housekeeping department, together with front office, food and beverage department, auditing department and the engineering department, make up the five basic departments of a hotel. It is responsible for cleaning the guestrooms and making them look clean, tidy, well-appointed and comfortable. The housekeeping department also does such work as to set up and to take apart banquets, exhibitions, conventions and conferences.

The housekeeping department is headed by the executive housekeeper and its staff includes housemaids, housemen (room boys), floor clerks, porters, room attendants, and seamstresses, and in some hotels the painters, plumbers, general maintenance men and window washers. Such housekeeping staff as porters, floor clerks, housemaids and room boys all have direct contact with the guest and contribute to the guest's overall experience with the hotel. The job of a housemaid or houseman is especially important, for a comfortable, clean, quiet and well-appointed room with a large soft bed is what every traveler looks for at the end of his/her journey or a day's sightseeing. Even such trivial carelessness as an impaired ashtray or waste basket, an improperly cleaned bath tub can upset a frazzled guest and thus affect his/her impression of the hotel.

关于客房部

客房部与前厅部、餐饮部、审计部和工程部一起,构成了酒店的5个基本部门。客房部的职责是打扫客房,使它们看上去干净、整洁、设备齐全、舒适。客房部还参与举办宴会、展览、会议,并负责收场的工作。

客房部以行政管家为首,工作人员包括女服务员、男服务员(客房部服务生)、楼层文员、行李员、客房服务员和裁缝,有些酒店还有画家、水暖工、一般维修人员和窗户清洁工。行李员、楼层文员、女服务员和客房部服务生这样的家政人员都会与客人直接接触,这有助于客人的酒店整体体验。一个女服务员或客房服务生的工作显得尤为重要,因为一个舒适、整洁、安静和设备齐全的客房加上一张大软床,是每位旅客在他/她的旅程或一天的观光结束后所寻找的日标。一些微不足道的疏忽,如损坏的烟灰缸或废纸篓、清洗不当的浴缸都会使一个疲惫的旅客心烦,从而影响他/她对酒店的印象。

Situational Dialogues

1. Providing the Laundry Service to the Guest

【拓展音频】

(Scene: A guest called the laundry service center before and put forward her needs. A room maid then came to her room and is offering laundry service to the guest now.)

(M: Room maid, G: Guest)

M: Good evening. Housekeeping. May I pick up your laundry?

G: Yes, it is in the laundry bag.

M: Thank you, ma'am. Is the laundry form in the bag?

G: Yes. I'd like to know how long your laundry service usually takes.

M: For clothes received before 11:00 a.m., we'll deliver them to your room by 9:00 p.m. the same day; and for those received before 3:00 p.m., you may get them back by noon the next day.

G: Got it. By the way, I may need dry-cleaning for my sweater. How long does it usually take?

M: It usually takes two days.

G: Oh, it might be a little bit long. We're leaving tomorrow.

M: If you are in a hurry, we have a two-hour quick service with an extra charge of 50%.

G: Well, if that's the case, I'd like this sweater dry-cleaned by hand in cold water.

M: Sure, the laundry will be done as you asked before. But, let me see, there should be three T-shirts in your form, but there are only two in the bag.

G: Oh, sorry. I can't find another T-shirt now, just send the laundry as it is.

M: OK. Could you sign for the change please?

G: No problem.

M: Anything else, ma'am?

G: No, that's all.

M: Thanks for your cooperation. Goodbye.

2. Laundry Service

(Scene: A guest is calling for laundry service in the room.)

Staff: Good morning. Housekeeping. May I help you?

Guest: Yes. Please send someone to pick up my laundry.

Staff: Your room number, please?

Guest: 1102.

Staff: A valet will be up in a few minutes.

Valet: Housekeeping. May I come in?

Guest: Yes. I'd like to have this laundry done.

Valet: Certainly, sir. Would you please fill out a laundry form?

Guest: Yes. Here you are.

Valet: Would you like regular service or express service?

Guest: What's the difference?

Valet: For regular service, laundry is collected before 9:30 a.m. and returned at 6:00 p.m. the same day. For express service, the laundry is returned within four hours. The charge for express service is double.

Guest: I see. Regular will be all right.

Valet: I guess your skirt need steamed and pressed, am I right?

Guest: Yes, of course. And there is a spot on the right side, see if you can remove it.

Valet: Could you tell me what the stain is made of then we can use the best way to deal with it.

Guest: I think it is an oil stain but I am not sure.

Valet: OK. We will do our best. May I do anything else for you?

Guest: No, that is all.

Valet: Could you please sign your name here?

Guest: Sure.

3. Complaints about Laundry Service

(Scene: A guest is complaining that the laundry service is not very good. Some clothes have shrunk to half size and some are even missing.)

(L: Laundress, G: Guest)

L: Laundry service. May I help you?

G: Yes. I have a lot of complaints about the laundry.

L: What is the problem exactly, madam?

G: First of all, I sent a pair of tights to the laundry and now they are full of runs. I also sent a T-shirt and a nightgown which have shrunk to half size.

L: I am terribly sorry, madam. However, according to the hotel rules we are allowed to pay up to ten times the price for laundering the items for the damage. I hope this will help.

G: That's very kind of you, but this isn't the only problem. We are also missing a singlet and a panties girdle. They were never returned.

L: I see that you have some serious problems, madam. I am going to contact the laundry manager right this moment and ask her to attend to your problems personally.

G: That's very kind of you.

L: Please let me apologize on the part of the management of our hotel for all the inconvenience. We will pay as much as is allowed by hotel rules for the damaged articles and we will do our utmost to find the missing things.

G: I hope so. I'm checking out in two hours.

L: We will take immediate action, madam. Thank you for calling.

G: You have been very helpful. Thank you very much. Goodbye.

L: Goodbye, madam.

4. The Error of the Laundry Service

(Scene: A guest is going to check out, however, the laundry was not returned by the hotel. There must have something wrong about the laundry service.)

(L: Launderss, G: Guest)

L: Good afternoon. The laundry. May I help you?

G: Yes. You took my laundry two days ago and I'd like to know where it is.

L: I am terribly sorry for the inconvenience, sir. Could you tell me your name and room number?

G: I'm George Ellington in 311.

L: Please hold on a moment, Mr. Ellington. I will try to locate your laundry.

(After one minute...)

L: Are you still there, Mr. Ellington?

G: Yes, I am.

L: We have found your laundry, Mr. Ellington. It went to 312 by mistake. I am terribly sorry about this error.

G: That's all right, but please bring my laundry right up because I will check out right away.

L: Your laundry is on its way up right now, Mr. Ellington.

G: Thank you very much.

L: You are welcome, sir. Please let me apologize again for the mistake.

G: Thank you for finding my laundry. Goodbye.

(After five minutes...)

L: Mr. Ellington, your clothes are ready. Here they are.

G: Well, let me check. The stain on my skirt has all been removed and the skirt looks like a new one. How nice!

L: Thank you, but we still feel sorry for our mistake.

G: To err is human. Forget it.

L: That is very kind of you.

The Laundry Service

In a hotel, the laundry service, the prime duty of which is to see to the cleanliness of the hotel linens, the staff's uniforms and the guest's personal laundry, belongs to the Housekeeping Department. The laundry service can be divided into washing, dry-clean and pressing. According to the length of time needed, it also falls into two categories: ordinary and express. Good laundry service is a very important aspect of a hotel, and it makes the guest feel at home. Furthermore, the guest is more likely to complain about the service if it is not performed well. Consequently, the hotel attaches importance to laundry service, too. In fact, the laundry service can be outsourced to dry clean company in some hotels. However, the quality is the major point in hotel's service.

洗衣服务

在酒店,洗衣服务的首要任务是清洗酒店的床上用品、工作人员的制服和客人的个人衣物,它属于客房部的工作范畴。洗衣服务可分为洗涤、干洗和熨烫。根据所需的时间长度,也可以分为两类:普通和特快。良好的洗衣服务是酒店的一个非常重要的方面,它使客人有宾至如归的感觉。此外,如果服务欠佳,宾客更容易对服务产生抱怨。因此,酒店也非常重视洗衣服务。事实上,有些酒店采取的是将洗衣服务外包给干洗公司,但不管怎样,质量仍然是酒店追求的首要目标。

Situational Dialogues

1. A Drunken Guest

(Scene: A guest is smoking in the room, which makes the detector flash. The floor attendant has to check the room.)

Staff: Excuse me. May I come in?

Guest: Yes, the door is open.

Staff: I am sorry, some guests complained about the noise in your room. They said someone were shouting and singing loudly in the room. However, there is something more terrible that the smoke detector is flashing and warning.

Guest: I can't tell you how sorry I am. You see, my husband had drunk so much that he found it hard to remain perpendicular.

Staff: I think the gentleman may need a cup of tea. It's very stuffy here. Would you mind taking your husband out for some fresh air?

Guest: I hope so. But I guess he is so tired that he feels as if he could sleep the clock around.

Staff: Well, do you mind that I need to check the smoke detector?

Guest: No problem, go ahead.

Staff: Smoke sensors warned us of the fire for the smoke triggered off the alarm.

Guest: We are truly sorry for the inconvenience. It was thoughtless of him to forget your hotel's policy after drinking.

Staff: I can make sense. Please take care of him and avoid disturbing others. By the way, if you need any help, just let us know.

Guest: Yes, thank you.

2. Repairing the Room

(Scene: A guest is calling the housekeeping center to complain the bad facilities in the bathroom.)

(H: Housekeeper, G: Guest, R: Repairman)

H: Good evening. Housekeeping. May I help you?

G: Yes. There is something wrong with some of the facilities in the bathroom. I usually take a bath shower before I go to bed. But could you deal with this immediately?

H: I'm sorry to hear that. What exactly is the matter?

G: The toilet doesn't flush, the shower head and washbasin faucet keep dripping, and the bathtub drain is clogged as well.

H: First, I do apologize for the inconvenience. I will have the Maintenance Department fix these right now. Would you please tell me your room number?

G: 1205.

H: Room 1205. Thank you for bringing the problems to our attention. And I apologize for the inconvenience again. The repairman will come to your room soon.

G: Yes, I see.

(5 minutes later.)

R: Housekeeping. May I come in?

G: Come in, please.

R: Good evening, sir. I have come to repair the bathroom facilities and I will take a look at them as well.

G: Good. Go ahead. How long will I have to wait?

R: Fifteen minutes or so.

G: OK.

R: Everything is all right, sir. You can use the bathroom now.

G: Thank you. And another thing, the people next door are very noisy.

R: I'm very sorry about the noise. We will check into it.

G: Fine, don't forget.

R: I'll take care of it. Have a good night.

3. Asking for First Aid

(Scene: A guest just slipped in the bathroom and got injured. Her husband is asking for help in the room.)

(A: Floor Attendant, G: Guest)

A: Good afternoon. Sarah speaking. What can I do for you?

G: My wife has slipped in the bathroom. She can't stand up. I'm afraid she sprained her ankle.

A: Shall I call a doctor for you?

G: Yes, please do and make it quick.

A: Right away, sir. May I have your room number, please?

G: Room 1008. Oh, no! Her left leg is also bleeding now.

A: Sir, I'll call the ambulance and get help immediately. Please don't move her.

G: Hurry up.

A: Help is on the way, sir. Everything will be alright. We will bring some bandages and absorbent cotton to your room to give her first aid before the doctor comes.

G: OK. Thank you!

A: We are on the way. Bye.

4. Saving the Guest

(Scene: The hotel will hold a fire drill this morning. But a guest did not get the information and went to the wrong place with panic.)

(Broadcasting: May I have your attention, please? This is an emergency. The place is on fire now. Please leave your room immediately and follow the emergency exit door. Withdraw this building immediately. Thank you for your cooperation, this is a fire drill.)

(E: Ellen, G: Guest, H: Housekeeper)

E: Housekeeping, Ellen speaking. May I help you?

G: I'm outside on the fire escape and can't get in. What shall I do?

E: Which floor are you on, madam?

G: The 15th floor.

E: Could you stay where you are, madam? We will send someone immediately.

G: OK, please be quick!

H: Hello, is anyone there?

G: Yes, I am here.

H: Could you step to the left as the door opens outwards, madam?

G: Sure.

H: I am opening the door now.

G: Thank goodness you came! I was beginning to give up hope.

H: I'm very sorry, madam. But for security reasons the fire doors cannot be opened from the outside.

G: I can understand. I just don't know this is a fire drill.

H: Did you get the message on your table in the room?

G: No. I slept early last night.

H: I am sorry. But happily, you are safe and sound.

Rescue Teams in Hotel Emergencies

Shanghai has established teams in its 18 districts and Chongming County to help with emergencies involving hotels.

The teams, which will have about 10 members each, will be made up of hotel and tourism agency employees, said the Shanghai Tourism Administrative Commission. Team members will be responsible for evacuations, first aid and raising the alarm when fire or other emergencies strike. They'll also teach disaster prevention and first-aid to other employees and tourists, said the commission. The commission's districts and county branches have held lectures and practical drills for team members to educate them about what to do in an emergency.

Yesterday, a fire drill was successfully carried out at the Sofitel, Jin Jiang, Oriental, Pudong Hotel in Pudong New Area. "The team members are still relatively inexperienced, but we expect them to play important roles in the future in ensuring tourists' safety," said Su Guangjian, director of the commission's market management section.

2. The Missing Suitcase

(Scene: A guest came to the information desk in the lobby and asked the clerk about his missing suitcase.)

(S: Staff, G: Guest)

S: Good morning, ma'am.

G: Good morning, Miss. I'm worried because I have lost my suitcase this morning.

S: Where did you lose it?

G: I still had it when I got off the taxi. And I just couldn't remember where I misplaced it.

S: Can you describe your suitcase please?

G: Sure, it is a black, medium size suitcase with four wheels.

S: En, I'm afraid we've got nothing like that, sorry.

G: Oh, I made a mistake. I carried the brown one today. It must be very like because there is nothing but a Xiao in it.

S: A Xiao?

G: Well, Xiao is a kind of Chinese vertical bamboo flute. I will play at night at the annual party of our company.

S: Let me see. Yeah, we do have a brown suitcase. Do you have the key?

(The customer hands over the key, and the clerk opens the suitcase.)

Clerk: I can understand how you feel, sir. Don't worry. We will try our best to help you. Do you remember the last time you used it or saw it, and where was it?

Guest: This morning. I got a call from my daughter, and then I left the room with the phone on me.

Clerk: Where did you go after that?

Guest: A lot of places. The restaurant, the lobby and then I had my hair cut at the barber's. I think the phone is still in the building.

Clerk: What's your phone number? Has the phone been connected yet?

Guest: No, the phone was shut down.

Clerk: Could you tell me your name and room number, please?

Guest: Yes, Mr. Jackson in Room 1058.

Clerk: What is the model of your phone? And what's the color?

Guest: It's a white iPhone 4S. By the way, do guests ever steal anything?

Standard Lost Property Letter

Dear Mr. Smith:

Thank you for your letter of May 8th, 2011. We hope that you enjoyed your stay with us.

Regarding the pair of trousers and the belt which you think you might have left in your room, we regret that despite a diligent search by our housekeeping staff, we have been unable to locate them.

All items which have been lost or left behind at the hotel are immediately deposited with our Housekeeping Department, the owner on request. We have checked the lists for May 27th—May 30th, but unfortunately neither your trousers nor your belt were among the many articles received at that time. We sincerely regret, therefore, that we are unable to assist you.

We hope that this will not have marred your memories of your stay with us and we look forward to welcoming you on any future visits you might take to our city.

Sincerely yours!

1. Providing Wake-up Service

【拓展音频】

- (Scene: A guest is consulting some wake-up call service in the hotel.)
 (G: Guest, R: Receptionist)
 G: Good evening. This is Mr. Johnson in Room 303.
 R: Good evening, Mr. Johnson. What can I do for you?
 G: I'm going to Wuhan early tomorrow morning. So I wonder if your hotel has the morning call service.
 R: Yes, sir. Anyone who stays in our hotel can ask for the service. At what time would you like us to call you tomorrow morning?

G: Well, actually I'm not really sure. But I have to be at the conference room of the Eastern Garden Hotel in Wuhan by 10 o'clock. You wouldn't know how long it takes to drive to Wuhan from the hotel, would you?

R: I would give it three to three and a half hours.

G: That means that I'll have to be on the road by 7 o'clock at the latest.

R: That's right.

G: Well, in that case, I would like you to call me at 5:45?

R: OK. So we will wake you up at 5:45 tomorrow morning. What kind of call would you like, by phone or by knocking at the door?

G: By phone. I don't want to disturb my neighbors.

R: Yes, sir. I'll tell the operator to call you up at 5:45 tomorrow morning. Anything else I can do for you?

G: No. Thanks. Good night.

R: Good night, Mr. Johnson. Have a good sleep.

2. Wake-up Call for Traveling

(Scene: A guest is calling the reception to book a wake-up call service.)

(R: Receptionist, G: Guest)

R: Reception. Good evening. I'm Marry Lee.

G: Good evening. This is John Anderson from Room 1208.

R: What can I do for you, Mr. Anderson?

G: I'd like to request a morning call.

R: At what time would you like us to call you tomorrow morning?

G: I'm not sure. But I have to be at Tianhe Airport before 9 o'clock. I'm not an early riser because of the time difference, perhaps you understand.

R: I know. It usually takes one hour to drive to the airport from our hotel.

G: Well, in that case, how about 7:30?

R: I'm afraid that period of time is during rush hour. I advise you to be on the road by 7:30 at the latest.

G: OK. I'd like you to call me at 7:00 a.m.

R: All right. Mr. Anderson, Room 1208, the calling time is 7:00.

G: Yes, thank you.

R: Good night. Have a nice sleep.

3. A Wake-up Call for a Meeting

(Scene: A guest is asking for a wake-up call service for a meeting.)

(S: Staff, G: Guest)

G: Good evening. This is Mr. Green in Room 303.

S: Good evening, Mr. Green. What call I do for you?

G: I'm going to Los Angeles early tomorrow morning. I would like a morning call, but it seems something wrong with your computer wake-up call system. There's always busy tone.

S: Sorry, Mr. Green. The system has a breakdown recently and our repairman is trying to figure it out. We can call you in the morning if you need, sir.

G: Oh, I see. That's fine.

S: Yes, Mr. Green. At what time would you like us to call you tomorrow morning?

G: Well, I'm not really sure. But I have to be at the banquet hall of the Four Seasons Hotel in Los Angeles by 12 o'clock. You wouldn't know how long it takes to drive to Los Angeles from the hotel, would you?

S: I would give it two and a half hours.

G: That means that I'll have to be on the road by 9 o'clock at the latest.

G: Well, in that case, I would like you to call me at 7 a.m.?

S: OK. So we will wake you up at 7 tomorrow morning. Good night, Mr. Green. Have a good sleep.

G: Good night.

4. Wake-up Call for Early Exercise

(Scene: A guest wants to find some places to do some exercises and she hates to be a late sleeper.)

Ellen: Operator, Ellen speaking, may I help you?

Guest: Yes, would you do me a favor?

Ellen: Certainly, madam. What can I do for you?

Guest: I wonder if you can help me. We have just come from London and we are not at all used to the time difference here. But I hate to be a late sleeper as I'm fond of fresh air in the morning and I will see if I can find some places like public gardens or somewhere to do some exercises.

Ellen: I see. It's three o'clock in the afternoon now. I suggest you have a good rest in the room. It usually takes a while to recover after a long flight. Some guests may have jet lag for a few days.

Guest: That's very nice of you for your consideration. Would you recommend some places for me?

Ellen: Yes, I think the Zhong Shan Park is the closest park from our hotel. The park borders on the shores of the lake as well. Besides, there is a gymnasium nearby.

Guest: Wonderful. Would you please wake me up tomorrow morning?

Ellen: That's for sure. At what time do you want us to call you up?

Guest: At 7 sharp tomorrow morning, please.

Ellen: OK. We will wake you up at 7:00 a.m. Anything else I can do for you?

Guest: Yes, could you bring me some English newspaper? I'm used to reading something before sleeping.

Ellen: Yes, what about Times?

Guest: That's good.

Ellen: OK, see you soon.

Guest: See you.

Scene Two: Suppose you are an operator. A guest asks if he could be waken-up at 7:30 a.m. and how to use the computer wake-up call service.

Further Reading

Wake-up Call Service

Wake-up call service is a daily service which receptionists or room attendants are responsible for in a hotel. The evening and night shift employees will make a note of guests' request and the time for wake-up call service. Next morning, the guests will receive a wake-up call by telephone or a hotel staff on time.

Actually, different hotels may have different details on wake-up call service. Wake-up by operator is normal in most hotels. Besides, wake-up service by computer is common in 4 or 5 stars hotels. Sometimes you can hear a piece of music from the telephone or a women's voice on the phone. In case of emergency, the attendant would knock at the door to wake you up every 5 minutes.

叫醒服务

叫醒服务是酒店提供的一项日常服务项目, 由前台服务人员或客房部服务员负责。通常

晚班和夜班员工负责记录客人的叫醒服务要求及时间。第二天早晨,客人将按时被电话叫醒或人工叫醒。

事实上,在叫醒服务的细节上每个酒店都不太一样。由总机人工叫醒是最常见的。此外,在一些四星级、五星级酒店,电脑叫醒服务是常见的。有时,你可以从电话中听到一段音乐或者一段女声播报。在紧急情况下,服务员会通过每5分钟一次的敲门来叫醒你。

1. Booking a Tour

(Scene: A guest decides to start their tour immediately. But they have some questions and need some suggestions as well.)

Guest: Good morning.

Staff: Good morning. What can I do for you?

Guest: I'm looking for some places to spend the weekend. What do you have that's good and not too expensive?

Staff: Do you want to go alone, or with a group?

Guest: I think group is cheaper. Do you have any special offers?

Staff: Yes, for a group tour, we have the Emperor Tomb package. It includes transportation, tour guides, hotels, meals and the entrance fee for Dong Ling. It is an all-expenses-paid tour: the price includes all meals and insurance.

Guest: How much is that?

Staff: 1,000 yuan per person.

Guest: How about their service?

Staff: I guess they are very good for we haven't received any complaints about them so far. They take care of their guests very well.

Guest: Well, I'll have to see about that...OK, deal.

Staff: That's fine. I can book that for you. Could you tell me your name, room number and cell phone number, please?

Guest: Sure. Grace Smith in Room 1025 and my cell phone number is 1397—147—3683.

H: (The housekeeper begins taking notes.) At what time will you need a babysitter?

G: From eight until eleven.

H: And how old are the children?

G: My little girl is two years old and the boy is three.

H: At what time would you like the babysitter to come to your room?

G: Just before eight.

H: I will arrange everything for you.

G: Thank you very much.

H: Is there anything special that you would like the babysitter to do, Mrs. Jenkins?

G: The babysitter should just give them some milk and put them in bed.

H: Very well.

G: The little girl still wears Pampers. I'll leave some on the bed.

(L: Lily, G: Guest)
L: Good morning Mr. Stevens. I am now ready to do your room. Glad to serve you.
G: Thanks. By the way, Miss, is there car rental service in your hotel?
L: Yes, sir. We have many kinds of cars for you to rent. As far as I know, we have compact or sports car, jeep, coach, SUV and so on. What kind of car do you have in mind?
G: Well, it's my son's first time to come to Wuhan. We want to go for an excursion in the East Lake Scenic Area. I suppose a five-seat SUV would be fine.
L: Aha, since the road condition is quite acceptable around the area, a mid-sized car should also be available for you guys.
G: Um...I'll think over and the price should also be taken into account. How much does it cost to rent a mid-size car?
L: That would be US $45 a day excluding fuel.
G: The price is reasonable. But is there any discount if we rent for relatively long time?
L: Of course. It's US $280 per week plus taxes. All cars come with unlimited mileage.
G: Oh, I see. Are the cars filled before I take them?
L: We fill all the cars before they leave. But be sure you bring it back filled, because we charge you two dollars a gallon to fill it here.
G: OK. I'm going to make decision after discussing with my son. Thanks.
L: My pleasure. You can just contact the concierge desk for further information.

4. Introduction for Miscellaneous Service

(Scene: A guest may be new in the hotel and have many questions about the hotel's services.)

G: Would you please tell me the daily service hours of the dining room?
H: Certainly. From 7:00 a.m. till 10:00 p.m. nearly serving all day long.
G: When will the bar and cafe open?
H: From 3:00 p.m. till midnight.
G: Does the guest house offer any other service?
H: Oh, we have a barber shop, a laundry, a store, post and telegram services, a newspaper stand, a billiard, table tennis, video games.
G: It's jolly good.
H: You may have your shopping and amusements there.
G: Thank you for your concern. Can I get a tourist map in the hotel?)

H: Yes, you may go to the lobby and buy it from the newspaper stand there. With the map, you can find your way around.

G: Good. And where can I have my laundry done?

H: There's a plastic bag in the bathroom. Just put your laundry in it. It will be picked up after I make the bed every morning. Here is the room key.

G: Do I keep the key?

H: At the Service Counter, there are attendants on duty all day. Please leave the key with Service Counter when you go out.

G: Yes, I know. Thanks.

H: And then, you might keep your valuables: diamonds, necklace, ear-rings, etc. in the vault of the guest house.

G: You give very good service in this guest house. Thank you a lot.

H: My pleasure. I hope you will enjoy staying here. In the mean time, the hot water supply in this guest house is from 6:00 a.m. up to 12:00 p.m.

G: Oh, that sounds good. I feel like taking a bath right now. I'm used to having a bath at 9 o'clock every morning.

H: In the bathroom, everything has already been prepared, such as toilet soaps, towels, bathing towels, bathrobes slippers, toilet paper, shampoo combs, brushes, shavers, an ashtray and bathing caps.

G: Thank you for your information.

Babysitting Service

The hotel can provide many kinds of services, some belong to miscellaneous service that means they are uncommon or trivial. However, babysitting service is one of the most important services for its unpredictable process.

Babysitting is the practice of temporarily caring for a baby on behalf of his/her parents. The sitter is normally contracted one night at a time. The term probably originated from the action of the caretaker "sitting on" the baby in one room, while the parents were entertaining or busy.

In providing the babysitting service, the clerk needs to equip himself with career morals and the awareness of quality service. Keep a clear record of the baby's situation, the parent's requirement and the accurate starting time of the service so as to coordinate the qualified babysitters to carry out the service.

托 婴 服 务

酒店能提供各种服务,有一些属于杂项服务的范畴,这意味着这些服务比较不常见或者琐碎。但是,托婴服务是其中最重要的服务之一,因为,总会有一些不可预知的事发生。

托婴服务是暂时代替家长照看婴儿的一项临时服务。保姆通常是照看一个晚上。“Babysitting”这个术语可能是来源于照顾者让婴儿“坐好”的一个行为,而他们的父母可能出去娱乐或者忙其他事去了。

提供婴儿照看服务的时候,员工需要有一定的职业道德和优质的服务意识。要清楚地记录宝宝的情况、父母的需求和准确的服务时间,这样可以协助保姆良好地开展服务。

1. Reserving a Table on Valentine's Day

(Scene: Tomorrow is the Valentine's Day and the Stevens want to have a dinner in the Swan Restaurant.)

Clerk: Good afternoon, Swan Restaurant. May I help you?

Guest: I'd like to reserve a table for dinner for tomorrow night.

Clerk: Certainly, sir. Tomorrow is the Valentine's Day. So you have only two people in the party?

Guest: Yes, my wife and me.

Clerk: At what time can we expect you, sir?

Guest: Around 7:00 p.m.

Clerk: I see. Would you like a table in the main restaurant or in a private room, sir?

Guest: A private room, please.

Clerk: Certainly, sir. We will have Rose Hall reserved for you, will that be all right? May I have your name and telephone number, please?

Guest: Sure, it's Stevens and my cell-phone number is 13971473683.

Clerk: Thank you. By the way, we can only keep your room till 8:00 p.m. since it's the peak season now.

Guest: I understand.

Clerk: I'd like to confirm your reservation: Rose Hall for Mr. Stevens on Valentine's Day; arrival time is around 7:00 p.m. and your phone number is 13971473683. Is that correct?

Guest: Exactly, thank you.

Clerk: We look forward to serving you. Thanks for calling.

2. Banquet Reservations

(Scene: There will be a banquet following the conference. Therefore, a guest is booking a banquet in a private room.)

Clerk: Good afternoon. Banquet Reservations. May I help you?

Guest: Yes. I'd like to book a banquet in a private room at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Clerk: Would you like Chinese, Western, Japanese or Korean cuisine?

Guest: Chinese food, please.

Clerk: For how many people?

Guest: Let me see, 9 persons.

Clerk: Yes, sir, 9 persons. The minimum charge for a private room is 100 yuan per person.

Guest: How much for food per person?

Clerk: 120 yuan per person. And what drinks are you going to have?

Guest: Just get ready Hennessy XO. We're going to order other drinks at the dinner time. All the drinks are on consumption basis.

Clerk: Yes, sir. May I know your name, please?

Guest: Galley Spencer.

Clerk: How do you spell it?

Guest: G—A—LL—E—Y, S—P—E—N—C—E—R.

Clerk: G—A—LL—E—Y, S—P—E—N—C—E—R. Yes, Mr. Spencer. And what is your telephone number?

Guest: 660—782—19.

Clerk: 660—782—19. You are not calling from Wuxi, are you?

Guest: No, I'm calling from Shanghai. How do you know?

Clerk: The phone numbers in Wuxi are all 7 digit ones.

Guest: I see. By the way, could you fax us the menu with the name of the banquet room? My fax number is 660—782—18.

Clerk: Yes, 660—782 18. We'll be sure to fax you the menu with the name of banquet room, Mr. Spencer. Is there anything else I can do for you?

Guest: No, thanks.

Clerk: So, the reservation is made by Mr. Spencer, a Chinese banquet for 9 people at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow evening. The price is 120 yuan per person excluding drinks. We'll prepare Hennessy XO.

Guest: That's fine. Thank you.

Clerk: My pleasure. We look forward to seeing you tomorrow evening, Mr. Spencer.

3. Providing Specific Reservation Information

(Scene: A headwaiter is receiving a telephone call from a local customer to book a table for dinner. The guest has a lot of requests and she may ask for more information.)

(C: Clerk, G: Guest)

C: Good morning. Ascot Cafe at your service. May I help you?

G: Yes. I'd like to make a dinner reservation for this Friday, the 8th.

C: Alright, just a moment please and I'll check our reservation book. OK, how many people are there in your party?

G: There'll be six, four adults and two children. We prefer table by the window.

C: Sure, we can arrange that. When would you like to take the table?

G: 6 p.m., please.

C: Alright. And what is your name and phone number, please?

G: It's Sherry Jackson, and my phone number is 588-776-01.

C: OK, Ms. Sherry. So, that's a party reservation for Friday the 8th, at 6 p.m. Your number is 588-776-01.

G: Yes, that's right. Thank you very much. When do I need to arrive at the latest?

C: Ms. Sherry, as that is the peak hour, please be aware that the reservation will be kept for 30 minutes after the reserved time. That means you ordered a table for 6, and we will hold the table for you till 6:30 p.m.

G: Fine. By the way, shall I bring drinks by myself?

C: Well, according to our policy, all liquors brought in will be subject to a 20% service charge based on the market price of the liquor. But we can give you 10% off if your consumption reaches US $288.

G: Um...that's reasonable. Shall I bring my Corgi when dinning there?

C: Sorry, Ms. Sherry, dogs are not allowed in our restaurant.

G: OK. I see.

C: Thanks for calling, Mrs. Sherry. We look forward to having you with us.

4. A Failed Reservation

(Scene: A man wants to book a table tonight, but there are not enough tables for the guest.

Finally, the man has to make a reservation some other time.)

Guest: Hello, is that the Happy Hour Restaurant?

Clerk: Yes. May I help you?

Guest: Yes. I'd like a table for eight at 7:00 this evening. Can you arrange it for us?

Clerk: Just a minute. I'll check if there is any available.

(After a while.)

I'm sorry, sir. There aren't any tables left for 7:00, but we can give you one at 8:30. Would you like to make a reservation at that time?

Guest: Well, let me see. It seems a little late.

Clerk: Usually, the restaurant will be quieter at that time, sir.

Guest: That's the truth, and we need a quiet place in fact.

Clerk: Then I will recommend the West Lake Room. It is quiet and spacious. And we offer free fruit juice after 8:30.

Guest: Fine. I will change the time to 8:30.

Clerk: Very good, sir. A table for eight at 8:30 this evening in West Lake Room. May I have your name, please?

Guest: It's Smith.

Position Knowledge for Reservation

If the restaurant has extra requirements, such as the room charge or minimum charge, you should make it clear in advance to the guest who makes the reservation of a private room or a banquet. There are four different ways of reserving table: face-to-face reservation, telephone reservation, fax reservation and Internet reservation. No matter in which kind of way the reservation is made by the guest, you should make clear the following information: the name of the guest who makes the reservation, his phone number, the time of arrival and the number of the guests. Be sure to confirm the information at the end.

位置预订知识

如果餐厅有像包间费和最低消费这样的额外要求,要事先给预订包间或宴会的客人解释清楚。通常有4种不同的预订方式:面对面预订、电话预订、传真预订和网上预订。无论客人使用哪一种预订方式,都要弄清楚下列信息:预订人姓名、电话号码、客人抵达餐厅的时间和用餐人数。最后一定要再次确认这些信息。

Further Reading

Position Knowledge for Seating Guest

When directing the guest, the receptionist should ask the guest whether there is a reservation and the number of persons firstly. This is very important for the restaurant may not provide the service properly. When there is no vacancy, we should ask the guest, "Would you mind sharing a table with others?" In fact, most people do not like sharing a table with unfamiliar people unless in fast food restaurant. When we have to keep the guest waiting, we can say, "I'm afraid all our tables are taken." or "Would you mind waiting?"

There is the special requirement about the guest's dress in some top restaurants. We should explain it to the guest politely and give him some solutions. For example, we can say, "I'm afraid we require our guests to wear a jacket and tie. We can lend you one." When the guest comes into the restaurant, the waiter should greet the guest, pull the chair out for the guest, unfold napkins and put them on the guest's laps.

为客人引座的知识

为客人引座时,迎宾员应该先询问客人是否有预订及客人的数量。这非常重要,否则可能导致餐厅不能提供合适的服务。若餐厅客满,我们应该问客人:“您是否介意与他人共用餐桌?”事实上,大多数人不愿意与不熟悉的人共用餐桌,除非是在快餐店。当我们不得不让客人等待的时候,我们可以说:“恐怕我们已经客满了。”或者“您介意等一会吗?”

有的高档餐厅对客人的着装有特殊要求,这时,要礼貌地向客人解释说明并提供解决办法。例如,我们可以说:“抱歉,我们要求客人穿外衣打领带,我们可以借给您。”当客人到餐厅的时候,服务生应问候客人,为客人拉椅、让座,打开餐巾放在客人膝盖上。

Ten Meals for Briton

The average Briton can make 10 meals from scratch without having to look at a recipe, a survey suggests. Spaghetti Bolognese is the most popular dish, with 65% of people saying they know the recipe by heart. The traditional roast dinner comes in second place with 54% of people able to prepare it unaided. The survey, commissioned by the UKTV Food channel to mark the return of its Market Kitchen show, involved questioning 3,000 people. The survey suggests the average cook is more comfortable preparing foreign dishes than British classics at home. Chilli con carne is the third most popular dish for cooks to attempt, with 42% saying they can manage it without looking at a cookbook or recipe online. Some 41% of cooks feel confident they can prepare the classic Italian dish lasagna. The research defined a recipe as a main course dish containing four or more ingredients. Matthew Fort, presenter of Market Kitchen, said, "The results provide a good snapshot of what Brits are eating week in, week out, because if you cook something regularly enough you will remember the recipe." The study revealed British cooks own an average of five recipe books each but are increasingly turning to the Internet and television cooking shows for inspiration.

A: Are you ready to order now, sir?

B: No, I'm still _____. You see, this is my first trip to China. I don't know much about Chinese food.

A: Chinese food is divided into _____; and Chinese cuisine is very different from European. Our restaurant is noted for _____.

B: I have heard Sichuan food is spicy and hot.

A: Yes. Cantonese food is lighter.

B: But I really like hot food. Could you recommend something?

A: What about the boiled fish with pickled cabbage and chili sauce, and the spicy Sichuan beancurd? _____.

B: OK. I will have them.

A: Would you like some vegetables for your lunch? How about spicy cabbage of Sichuan style? It's our chef's dish.

B: That's fine. _____.

Situational Dialogues

1. Ordering From the Sichuan Restaurant Menu

(Scene: The waitress is bringing a menu to a guest and the guest has many questions about Chinese food.)

(W: Waitress, G: Guest)

W: Good evening, sir. May I get you something to drink while you read the menu?

G: Yes, please. We'd like to try some Chinese beer. What brand do you recommend?

W: Beijing Beer is very popular.

G: We'll take five Beijing Beers ...eh...very cold, please.

(The waitress comes back after 5 minutes...)

W: Are you ready to order, sir?

G: We are interested in the sautéed chicken gizzards with pepper. Is it hot?

W: Yes, sir. It's quite hot.

G: What is the Sichuan drunken chicken?

W: It is chicken cooked in rice wine.

G: Is it hot?

W: No, it's not hot.

G: That's all right. We'll take the diced chicken with dried red pepper.

W: Very well.

G: We'd like a pork dish, too. What do you suggest?

W: Most guests like the sweet and sour pork.

G: Hum...No, I think we'll take the deep fried suckling pig.

(The guest stops ordering.)

W: Would you care for soup?

G: Where are the soups listed?

W: On the next page, sir.

(The waitress shows the guest where the soups are listed.)

G: We'll take the Sichuan hot and sour soup. By the way, have we ordered enough for five people?

W: You might want to order two more dishes. Perhaps beef, seafood or a vegetable...

G: Let me take another look at the menu. Yes, the sliced beef with celery and chili should be nice.

W: Yes, sir.

G: Also, we'd like the deep fried king prawns.

W: For how many persons?

G: For five, please.

W: Would you like to see the wine list?

G: No, thank you. We'll just have tea.

2. Recommendations for Chinese Food

(Scene: Mr. Greg and his family are having dinner at Xinyue Chinese Restaurant. The waitress helps him make his order.)

(W: Waiter, G: Greg)

W: Good evening. Welcome to Xinyue Chinese Restaurant. May I take your order now?

G: Yes, we are. But there are so many things on the menu and they all look good. Actually, it's our first time in China, we know a little about Chinese food. Could you recommend something special in your restaurant?

【拓展音频】

W: With pleasure. We offer a wide variety of typical Chinese food. I think Kongbao chicken is quite stir-fried together, with our special sauce.

G: Sounds great. We'll try it then.

W: Oh, well. Broccoli with Crabmeat Sauce is also our specialty. The broccoli is a local vegetable, very delicious, actually also quite different from yours. It's also worth a try.

G: All right. We do like broccoli. Let's see the difference.

W: OK, sir. Those pictures on the menu could be helpful. Which else would you like to try?

G: What is this dish then? It looks red and a little... greasy.

W: Aha, that's fried fish slices with sweet and sour sauce, it tastes sweet.

G: Fish could be cooked like this. That's interesting. We'll take it.

W: Very well.

G: We also want to try Chinese rice. What do you suggest?

W: Yes, sir. You could try boiled seafood and rice with abalone sauce. Many guests like it.

G: OK. We take it. I think that's enough for us. Um...Where is the Chinese tea listed? We also want to have a try.

W: It's on the last page. What kind of tea would you like? We have Longjing, puer tea, Jasmine tea Tieguanyin and so on.

G: Longjing please. We heard a lot about it.

W: OK. So you have ordered Kongbao chicken, broccoli with crabmeat sauce, fried fish slices with sweet and sour sauce, boiled seafood and rice with abalone sauce, and Longjing tea. Is that right?

G: That's right. Thank you.

W: My pleasure. Your dishes will be sent to you in 15 minutes.

3. Eating Chinese Food in Chinatown

(Scene: Mr. Brown and Mr. Zhang had some business in the Chinatown. After that, they might end their day dining in a restaurant that serves Chinese cuisine.)

(B: Mr. Brown, Z: Mr. Zhang)

B: Well, Mr. Zhang, Chinese cuisine is famous throughout the world. I've been looking forward to having my first real Chinese meal while I'm in Chinatown.

Z: We're here in a restaurant famous for its Chinese food.

B: Ah, here comes the first course. Tell me please what it is.

Z: It is chicken soup. At a restaurant that serves Cantonese dishes, we usually start off with soup.

B: Oh, this soup is delicious. What's this second course?

Z: It's "sweet and sour pork ribs". It's very popular with our foreign friends.

B: I also like it. It tastes good.

Z: Don't you like sea-food, Mr. Brown?

B: I can manage shrimps all right, but I'm afraid crabs don't agree with me.

Z: Here comes the "steamed fish". According to the menu, there are "stir-fried rice", "rolls" and "dumplings". Which do you prefer?

B: I think I'll try the dumplings.

Z: Now we'll end up with some fruit. Please help yourself to it.

B: Thank you, I've done very well. I feel so full. You've treated me to a very nice Chinese meal.

4. Chinese Restaurant Service

(Scene: A guest is having dinner at a Wuxi restaurant. The waiter helps him make his order.)

【拓展音频】

Waiter: Good evening. May I take your order now?

Guest: Yes.

Waiter: "Liangxi Crispy Eel" is a Wuxi specialty. It's crisp and savory. It's tasty and worth a try.

Guest: OK. We'll take one.

Waiter: How about the "Quick-boiled White Shrimps"? The white shrimp is a specialty from the Taihu Lake. Would you try one?

Guest: Yes, please. Any other local specialties you could recommend?

Waiter: Yes, what about a "Wuxi Pork Spare Ribs", "Steamed White Fish", "Whitebait Fish Soup with Egg Flakes", "Wuxi Pork Ravioli" and "Stir-fried Greens with Gluten"?

Guest: We'll take them all.

Waiter: Yes, sir. So that's one "Liangxi Crispy Eel", one "Quick-boiled White Shrimps", One "Wuxi Pork Spare Ribs", one "Whitebait Fish Soup with Egg Flakes".

Guest: Yes, that's enough.

Waiter: How about a fruit combination?

Guest: No, thanks.

Waiter: While you are waiting. May I suggest a drink for you?

Guest: No, thanks.

Waiter: One moment, please. Excuse me, here is the "Quick-boiled White Shrimps".

Guest: All the dishes are tasty. But we are full now. Can you cancel the Pork Ravioli please?

Waiter: One moment, please. I'll check with the chef right now. Excuse me, sir. The Pork Ravioli is being steamed now and will be ready in a minute.

Guest: All right, but can you pack them for me so that I may take them back?

Waiter: No problem. Here is the Pork Ravioli.

Guest: Thank you.

Room Service

The business time of the restaurant service is usually limited in the hotel. But if you are back too late and the restaurant is closed, please do not worry. Because most star-rated hotels provide 24-hours room service for you, except some hotels in the scenic spots. Besides, guests can choose to have breakfast or others in the room. Room service is usually provided by the food and beverage department and the waiter of the housekeeping department may also provide this service. Room service is usually a sign of high star-rated hotel. The service cost is a little higher than the cost of the restaurant, but it's just the smaller profit item in the hotel catering industry.

Situational Dialogues

1. Checking the Bill

(Scene: A guest is going to pay the bill but he finds it a little expensive when checking it out. The cashier is trying to explain and offer necessary information.)

(G: Guest, C: Cashier)

G: Excuse me. I'm checking out now. Can I have my bill, please?

C: Yes, sir. Just a moment, please. I'll draw up your bill for you. (After a while) Sorry to have kept you waiting. Here's your bill. The total is RMB 499 yuan, including 15 percent surcharge. Here is your bill.

G: What? 499 yuan! That's much more than I expected. Is there a mistake? Please examine the bill carefully and see if there's any mistake.

C: Of course. I'll check it.

G: 160 yuan for a pot of Herbal Tea. That's really too expensive!

C: Well, sir. Herbal Tea is our specialty and the price is on the menu. I think you've already had a taste for its fragrance and special flavor.

G: Fine, I see. I haven't noticed the price before. It seems that I'll have to pay what you ask. I hope I'm not being ripped off.

C: Ripped off? That's out of the question in our restaurant. How would you settle the bill?

G: With credit cards. What card do you honor?

C: American Express, Master, International Diner's Club, Visa, International Great Wall are all available. What kind of card have you got?

G: Master card, please.

C: Find, Let me take a print of your card. Wait a moment, please... Sorry to have kept you waiting, please sign on the print.

G: Sure.

C: Thank you, sir. Take your credit card and the invoice. Hope you have a nice stay in our city.

2. Some Mistakes in the Bill

(Scene: A guest is going to pay the bill but there seems to be many problems with the bill.)

(C: Customer, W: Waiter)

C: Excuse me, but I have some questions with the bill.

W: Oh, what seems to be the problem?

C: Well, first of all, we only had one soda, not three.

W: OK. Anything else?

C: Secondly, the waitress told us that the pizza was going to be on the house.

W: I see. She must have forgotten to change your bill. Was there anything else?

C: Actually, there were two more things.

W: Oh. What things might those be?

C: Well, we want to split the bill and that wasn't done.

W: I can do that for you now. Would you still like me to do this?

C: Yes, please.

W: And the final problem?

C: Do you accept American credit cards?

W: Yes, sir. What kind of card will you use?

C: VISA card.

W: That'll be fine. May I take an imprint of your card, please?

C: OK. That's it.

W: Thank you, sir. I must apologize for any inconvenience. Have a nice evening.

3. Payment in Foreign Currency

(Scene: A guest is going to pay the bill in US dollars and the barman has to explain some policies of the restaurant.)

Barman: How about another drink, sir?

Guest: No, thanks. I'm just leaving. My bill, please.

Barman: Your bill, sir. The total is RMB 88 yuan.

Guest: What? 88 yuan for a drink?

Barman: I'm sorry, sir. That's our minimum charge: two drinks at 40 yuan each, plus 10% service charge.

Guest: Why didn't you tell me? Had I known it, I wouldn't have come.

Barman: I'm awfully sorry, sir. There's a sign at the door as well as this tent card on the counter. Since you are going to pay for it, you might stay and enjoy the other half, sir. The orchestra is giving a wonderful performance.

Guest: OK. I'll stay a bit longer. But I haven't got any RMB. May I pay in foreign currency?

Barman: What kind of currency have you got?

Guest: US dollars.

Barman: Yes, you can. Let me see what the exchange rate for today is. Today's exchange rate is 6.50 yuan RMB for one US dollar. So it comes to 13.5 dollars.

Guest: Here's 14 dollars. Please keep the changes.

Barman: Thank you, sir. But we are not allowed to accept tips. It's our hotel policy. Enjoy your drink.

4. Explaining the Credit Limit

(Scene: Credit cards sometimes are inconvenient in that they cannot be used in most small restaurant or hotels. Besides, there are still some limits in using credit card.)

Guest A: Hello, miss.

Waiter: Yes, sir. Can I help you?

Guest A: The bill, please.

Waiter: One bill or separate bills?

Guest A: Two separate bills, each for three tables.

Waiter: Yes, sir. How would you like to settle the bill?

Guest A: I'll sign my bill.

Guest B: Can I pay by credit card?

Waiter: Yes, of course. (The waiter gets the two separate bills and presents them to the guests. Guest A signs the bill and returns it to the waiter. Guest B gives him the Million Card.) Sorry, sir. But we don't accept Million. (The waiter gives the card back to the guest in a professional way.)

Guest B: Do you accept Visa Card then?

Waiter: Yes, sir.

Guest B: Here you are.

Waiter: Do you have another card?

Guest B: Yes, but it's not with me. Why?

Waiter: The credit limit set by the Visa Card office is 1,000 US dollars. We need their permission to extend credit over that amount. Would you kindly settle the difference in cash?

Guest B: Well, if that's the case, I think I might make all my payment in cash.

Waiter: Thank you, but we don't accept US dollars in this restaurant. I'll change it for you at the front cashier if you don't mind.

Guest B: I'll appreciate that.

Waiter: According to today's exchange rate, one hundred US dollars is equivalent to 620 RMB.

Guest B: All right.

Waiter: Excuse me, sir. Here're the change and the receipt.

Guest B: Keep the change.

Waiter: No, thank you, sir. But we don't accept tips.

Go Dutch

I was at a restaurant the other day with a couple of friends and one of them suggested we went Dutch. As none of us had much money we all agreed but it got me to thinking about why we use this expression. Of course what it means is that each person pays his share of the bill and nobody tries to foot the whole bill. We also say it is a “Dutch treat” when we “go Dutch”.

The origins go back to a time when the people of Holland and the people of the UK weren't such good friends as they are today. In fact they were at war. During the 17th century the Dutch and the British were enemies fighting to control the spice trade and they fought 3 wars between 1652 and 1674. During wars the propaganda machines did their best to demonize the enemy and to make them seem as nasty as possible so everyone would hate them. The Dutch were depicted as mean and bad tempered and therefore unlikely to ever invite anyone to a meal.

There is a delicate etiquette surrounding going Dutch. It is widely accepted in some situations, such as between non-intimate friends or less affluent people, but can be considered stingy in other circumstances, such as on a romantic date or at a business lunch.

参考译文

AA制

有一天，我在一个餐厅与几个朋友吃饭，其中一个朋友建议我们都各自付账。我们每个人都带很多钱，于是所有人都同意，但它使我思考我们为什么用这个表达。当然，这意味着每个人只付他的那份账单，没有人需要请客。当我们“各自付账”的时候，我们也会说“AA制”。

这个起源要追溯到荷兰人和英国人没有如今这么好的关系的时候。事实上，他们在打仗。在17世纪，荷兰人和英国人处于敌对状态，他们通过战争来控制香料贸易。1652年到1674年间，他们打过3次仗。一般，战争期间的宣传机器会尽它们最大的努力来妖魔化敌人，使人们尽可能地认为敌人很卑鄙以至于憎恨他们。荷兰人被描述为小气的、坏脾气的，绝不乐意请人吃饭。

AA制是一种得体的礼仪，现在被人们普遍接受，普通朋友或者经济条件不好的人之间常遵循这一礼仪。但是，在其他一些场合，比如，浪漫的约会或者商务聚餐中，遵循AA制的人常常被视为小气或吝啬的人。

1. Ordering Drinks

(Scene: Three guests are ordering drinks. They ask for recommendations from the waiter.)

Guest 1: Waiter, the menu, please.

Waiter: Here is the menu. May I take your order now?

Guest 1: I don't know what I want. I'm not really a drinker.

Waiter: Tea or coffee?

Guest 1: What do you suggest for tea?

Waiter: We have black tea, green tea, pu'er tea, jasmine tea and oolong tea. What kind of teas would you like?

Guest 1: I will take a cup of pu'er tea. How about you, Sara?

Guest 2: I don't drink tea at all. Do you serve coffee?

Waiter: Of course, madam. What kind of coffee do you like? Plain or blended?

Guest 2: Blended?

Waiter: Yes, coffee with cream and sugar, cappuccino is a good choice.

Guest 2: It sounds interesting. I will take one cappuccino.

Waiter: What would you like to drink, sir?

Guest 3: Well, I suppose I will have the usual tea. I'm very thirsty.

Waiter: Any snack for drink, sir?

Guest 3: What about cakes made by your own shop? I heard they are good.

Waiter: Yes. They are really delicious. How about three Black Forest Cakes?

Guest 3: All right.

Waiter: Fine. One pu'er tea, one cappuccino and one usual tea, three Black Forest Cakes.

Guest 2: Could we have some fruits?

Waiter: Certainly, I will get you a fresh supply.

2. Recommending a New Brand of Coffee

(Scene: Mr. Robin is a frequenter of the restaurant. Now he is asking the waiter to order some beverage. The waiter recommends a new brand of coffee to him and teaches him how to taste it.)

(W: Waiter, R: Mr. Robin)

W: Excuse me, Mr. Robin. Do you need any beverage during your dinner?

R: En, what would you recommend for today? I have tasted more kinds of coffee in your shop. Is there anything fresh?

W: Yes, we have purchased a kind of new cold brew coffee toddy from America. What about a cup of it? You know, many guests give it high praise.

R: Cold coffee? I don't like to drink cold coffee.

W: The cold brewed coffee doesn't mean it has to be consumed cold. Well, this coffee is 67% less acidic and smoother than many other brew methods. Add boiling water, which dilutes it a smidgen.

R: Sounds good. OK, give me a cup of it.

W: Thank you. Would you like any refreshment?

R: No, thanks.

W: Wait a moment, please.

(5 minutes later)

W: This is your cup of toddy cold brewed coffee. Could I tell you something about it?

R: Yes, please.

W: The cold brewed coffee comes out very strong. But the lack of acidity and bitterness makes it much easier to drink than espresso. When drinking, you can pour it over ice, or in a blender. It is perfect for an iced coffee or any kind of blended coffee drink. Would you like to taste it?

R: Excellent! Thanks for your recommendation.

W: You are welcome and enjoy your coffee please.

3. Trying Traditional Chinese Wine

(Scene: Mr. White and his friend are having dinner at Orchid Restaurant in Chinatown. They are ordering some traditional Chinese beverage.)

(G1: Guest 1, G2: Guest 2, W: Waiter)

W: Your Light Rum, sir. May I serve you now?

G1: Sure, go ahead.

W: How is it, sir?

G1: Very good.

G2: Maybe we need something more. I don't like soft drinks. What would you recommend?

W: Here is the wine list, sir. We have a very extensive cellar. Would you like to try some Chinese alcohol?

G1: Oh, we heard a lot about it. It seems quite strong.

G2: I know Mao Tai. Do you have it?

W: Yes, sir. Mao Tai is the best Chinese spirit. It's rather strong, but never goes to the head. I think it's worth to try.

G1: OK. We'll take some. The small bottle is enough for us.

W: Indeed. That's 125ml for small bottle. Chilled or at room temperature?

G2: At room temperature.

W: Very well. Would you like to have some snacks with your wine?

G1: Let me see... Four Hong Kong egg tarts and two Margaret cakes, please.

W: OK, sir. An extra small bottle of Mao Tai, Four Hong Kong egg tarts and two Margaret cakes. Is that right?

G1: Exactly.

W: OK. Just a moment please.

Coffee and Coffee Shop

The word “coffee” entered English in 1598 via Italian caffè, via Turkish kahve. Its ultimate origin is uncertain, there being several legendary accounts of the origin of the drink. One possible explanation is the Kaffa region in Ethiopia, where the plant originated.

A coffee shop or café shares some of the characteristics of a bar, and some of the characteristics of a restaurant. As the name suggests, coffeehouses focus on providing coffee and tea as well as light snacks. In some countries, cafés may more closely resemble restaurants, offering a range of hot meals, and possibly being licensed to serve alcohol.

After several centuries of development, a coffeehouse is not only a place to have a cup of coffee, but a symbol of lifestyle, a landmark for certain social group. No matter you like it or not, let's just enjoy a cup of coffee!

咖啡和咖啡店

“咖啡”这个词进入英语领域是在1598年，它是由意大利语 caffè 和土耳其语 kahve 演变而来的。它的最终来源不太确定，关于这个饮料的起源有多种传说版本。一种比较可信的解释是其来自埃塞俄比亚的卡法地区，也就是这种植物的来源地。

咖啡店或者咖啡厅共享了一些酒吧和餐厅的特点。顾名思义，咖啡馆主要提供咖啡、茶和一些小吃。在一些国家，咖啡馆更接近于餐馆，能提供热腾腾的饭菜，还可以持执照卖酒。

经过几百年的发展，咖啡馆已经不仅是喝咖啡的地方了，它也是一种生活方式的象征，一个特定社会群体的标签。不管你喜欢与否，让我们来喝杯咖啡吧！

Situational Dialogues

1. Serving Cocktails for Reserved Guests

(Scene: The bartender is serving drinks for two guests in the bar. The guests have a reservation.)

(B: Bartender, G1: Guest 1, G2: Guest 2)

B: Welcome to our bar. Do you have a reservation?

G1: Yes, we do.

B: May I have your name please?

G1: Jordan Baermann.

B: OK. Let me check our reservation book. Would you prefer smoking area or non-smoking area?

G2: Non-smoking area please.

B: This way, please. Mind your step. (after seating the guests) Here is the wine list, please take your time.

G1: We would like some cocktails. But there are so many things on the list. Could you recommend something?

B: Well, Tequila Sunrise is our newly-developed and our barmaid recommended. Many guests like it.

G1: OK, I'll try it then. What about you, Miss Young?

G2: Um... I've tried Pink Lady before. It tastes different everywhere.

B: Indeed. But the ingredients should be similar. It's slightly pink or red, very aromatic. It's said that Pink Lady has got an implied meaning of love and kindness. You can have a try, Miss.

G2: Aha, what you said is quite interesting. OK, then.

B: Well. Do you like the cocktails on the rocks or straight up?

G1: With ice please.

B: OK. And you, Miss?

G2: Straight up, please.

B: So, that's one Tequila Sunrise on the rocks, Pink Lady straight up. Just a moment, please.

2. Chinese Liquors and Wines

(Scene: The bartender is serving drinks for two guests in a bar. They are talking about Chinese liquors.)

(B: Bartender, G1: Guest 1, G2: Guest 2)

B: Anything to drink, gentlemen?

G1: Well, we've been drinking cognac and whisky a lot. We'd like to have a change, but we don't quite know what to drink today. Can you recommend some famous Chinese liquors?

B: What about Wu Liang Ye, one of the most famous liquors in China? It's made from five kinds of cereal. It's fragrant and it never goes to the head. Its alcoholic content varies from 38% to 46%, and up to 52%.

G1: All right, we'll have the 46% one.

B: May I remind you all the Chinese liquors are served by the bottle here?

G1: Any other brands of liquor?

B: Yes, Mao Tai, Fen Jiu, Yang He, Xi Feng, Lu Zhou, etc.

G2: I hear Great Wall Wine is a famous brand.

B: Yes, it is. Would you like to try one bottle?

G2: OK, bring me the white wine as well. Make sure it is well chilled.

B: Yes, sir. A bottle of well-chilled white wine. Have you ever heard about Shaoxing Wine? It's a kind of still wine made from rice, somewhat like Japanese sake. Some Shaoxing wine is just good for your health.

G1: I believe it is, but you see we've got enough, we'll drink it next time.

B: Yes, sir. So you've ordered one bottle of Wu Liang Ye with 46% alcoholic content and one bottle of Great Wall white wine. Just a moment, please.

3. Western Liquors and Wines

(Scene: The bartender is serving drinks for two guests in a bar. They are talking about western liquors.)

(B: Bartender, G1: Guest 1, G2: Guest 2)

B: Good evening, sir. What can I do for you?

G1: I'd like a drink.

G2: Me too. Give me a double whisky and soda.

B: We serve brandy, whisky, vodka and so on. What would you like? (To Guest 2) How would you like the whisky, straight or on the rocks?

G1: Without ice. Ice will spoil the taste.

B: Straight away, sir.

G2: I'm suffering from a cold.

B: Then I recommend the vodka swizzle. It is made from several liquors and mixed into vermouth.

G2: That sounds wonderful.

(One hour later.)

G1: We must be off now.

B: How about one for the road?

G2: Why not? The same again, please.

4. Western Liquors and Wines

(Scene: The bartender is serving drinks for several guests in a bar. They have different opinions on drinks.)

(B: Bartender, G1: Guest 1, G2: Guest 2, G3: Guest 3, G4: Guest 4)

B: What may I offer you, ladies and gentlemen?

G1: I don't know what I want. I'm not really a drinker.

B: An aperitif or some white wine?

G1: Um... a Qingdao Beer.

B: I don't believe we have that one. How about our special cocktail?

G1: That sounds good. How about you, Lily?

G2: I don't drink at all. Do you serve soft drinks?

B: Of course, madam. But how about a non-alcoholic cocktail?

G2: It sounds interesting. I'll take that one.

B: What would you like to drink, gentleman?

G3: Well, none of that stuff they're drinking, eh... Bob?

G4: No, Peter. We'll have the usual beer, I suppose.

G3: Yes, I'm very thirsty.

B: Any special brand, sir?

G4: What about your local brand? I hear it's good.

B: It is Five Star Beer. Bottled or draught?

G1: Let's try the draught.

G4: Yes, I want draught beer, not bottled beer.

B: Fine. One special cocktail and one non-alcoholic cocktail for the ladies and two draught Five Star Beer.

Bar Service

Beverage service, one of the most profitable service, is provided in different places such as restaurants, hotels, tea shops, coffee houses, etc. The most common place is a bar with a counter from which drinks are dispensed.

Based on different functions, bars can be classified into the following types.

Main bars with exquisite decoration, sufficient bar counters, chairs, and a full range of appliances for preparing and mixing drinks. The whole process of making and mixing drinks by the bartenders is open to the guests.

Lounges (e. g. music lounge) provide drinks and snacks but not staple foods. Customers prefer to be seated at tables instead of the counter here for leisure, meeting guests or chatting.

Grand bars are often located in entertainment venues. There are not only beverage services but also noisy song and dance shows here.

Banquet bars are temporarily and specially established for banquets.

Service bars are located in restaurants. Here, guests are attended by waiters or waitresses instead of by bartenders.

酒吧服务

酒水服务是最有利可图的服务之一。许多地方都有这项服务,如餐厅、酒店、茶楼和咖啡馆等。最常见的地方还是在酒吧,那里有一个吧台专门来分发酒水。

根据不同的功能,酒吧可以被分为以下几种:

主酒吧大多装修考究、别致,有足够的靠柜吧凳、酒水、调酒器具种类齐全。客人可以当面欣赏调酒师的全套操作过程。

酒廊(如音乐长廊)提供饮料和小吃,但不提供主食。客人喜欢坐在座位上而不是吧台旁来放松、会客或者闲聊。

多功能酒吧往往设在娱乐场所。这里不仅有酒水服务,还有热闹的歌曲和舞蹈表演。

宴会酒吧一般是临时专门为宴会设计的。

服务酒吧一般设在餐厅。在这里,客人由餐厅服务员来服务,而不是由酒保来服务。

Situational Dialogues

1. Banquet Negotiation

(Scene: A guest negotiates with the clerk of the restaurant on a farewell party arrangement.)

- Guest: Hello, is this the Fisherman Wharf?
- Clerk: Speaking. May I help you?
- Guest: Yes. This is Jackson White from the ABC Auditing Firm. We'd like to have a farewell party banquet in your restaurant. Can you arrange it for us?

Clerk: Certainly, Mr. White. When would you like your banquet?

Guest: At 7:00 tomorrow evening.

Clerk: How many people will there be in your party?

Guest: There will be 50 altogether.

Clerk: Then I will arrange five tables for you. Could I recommend the Coco Beach the newly decorated hall? It's well equipped and spacious. I'm sure it's suitable for a company banquet and you will take it.

Guest: That sounds great. We'll take it.

Clerk: Then how much would you like to spend for each table?

Guest: About 2,500 yuan and we want have the Cantonese cuisine. Besides, we'd like some special treatment or a pleasant surprise for our most important guest in the party.

Clerk: Certainly. How about "Good Fortune & Huge Luck"? It's the pig's knuckle roasted with our House Sauce.

Guest: Great. It will be perfect for our farewell banquet.

Clerk: That's fine. And how about drinks?

Guest: Please prepare some Great Wall Dry Wine, Qingdao Beer, Champagne, Coconut Milk and Carrot Juice.

Clerk: All right. What kind of fruit would you like?

Guest: Please prepare some watermelon, apples, oranges, pineapples and grapes.

Clerk: OK. So let me repeat what you've ordered: a farewell banquet in Coco Beach Hall at 7:00 tomorrow evening; five tables for 50 people, each table about 2,500 yuan; drinks and fruit; a special dish of "Good Fortune & Huge Luck" for the special guest. Is that correct, Mr. White?

Guest: Yes. That's right.

Clerk: Thank you, Mr. White. We'll get everything ready before the banquet. I hope you'll enjoy it.

Guest: Thank you very much. Goodbye.

2. Serving the Western Style Banquet

(Scene: The waiter is serving a Western style banquet.)

(S: Staff, C: Customer)

S: You're at Table 18. Here we are. Take your seats, please.

C: I'm nearly late. Listen, our host is making the speech.

S: Yes. Let me fill brandy in your cup. The host is raising his cup for a toast.

(Host: Ladies and gentlemen, may I propose a toast to the health of you all? Cheers!)

C: Hey, this dish looks like a squirrel. What on earth is it?

S: This is the Squirrel-Shaped Mandarin Fish. Not only is it in the shape of a squirrel, it will sound like a squirrel crying when I pour the broth on it.

C: Is it that wonderful?

S: Yes. Please stay a little bit far away from the plate. When broth is poured, the broth might splash.

C: How does it taste?

S: It tastes crispy with sour and sweet flavors. Here is one portion for you. Would you try the flavors for yourself?

C: Hum, well, it is so soft inside.

S: May I take this plate away?

C: OK. What desserts do we have tonight?

S: Mango Pudding and Homemade Cheese Cake.

C: When will fruits come?

S: Just a minute, please. Here is your fruit knife. Do be careful.

(Host: Ladies and gentlemen, thank you for your coming this evening.)

S: Do you enjoy your meal this evening?

C: Yes, everything is fine.

S: I'm glad to hear it. This is your coat, sir. Good night.

3. Catering Service for Wedding Party

(Scene: Mr. and Mrs. Laurens have been working in China for two years. They want to order a wedding banquet in Xinhua Restaurant.)

Clerk: Welcome to Xinhua Restaurant. May I help you?

Mr. Laurens: We want to know if you could arrange the catering for wedding party.

Clerk: Yes, sir. Take a seat please. As for catering, our Banquet Manager is in charge. I'd like to introduce to you. Just a moment please. Something to drink? We've got very fresh Chamomile Tea.

Mr. Laurens: Oh, that's good. Thank you.

Clerk: You're welcome.

Manager: Good afternoon. I'm Chilly Yang, very glad to meet you. May I know your name please?

Mr. Laurens: Jeff Laurens. And this is my wife.

Manager: Well, Mr. and Mrs. Laurens, Would you like a banquet with Chinese style for your wedding party?

Mrs. Laurens: Yes we do. In the party, we want to entertain our Chinese friends.

Manager: Certainly, sir. When would you like your banquet?

Mr. Laurens: Well, the wedding's on 12 June.

Manager: And how many guests will there be, sir?

Mr. Laurens: The guest list stands at around 80 at the moment.

Manager: I see. Then our Raffles Room and Golden Dragon Room can accommodate approximately 100 people. However, I'll send you details of our various function rooms and you can choose.

Mrs. Laurens: I like the Raffles Room. It seems more capacious.

Mr. Laurens: It truly is. We'll take it.

Manager: OK. We are holding the Raffles Room for your wedding day. And what time will you want the reception to start, sir?

Mrs. Laurens: After the ceremony at about 1:10 p.m.

Manager: Very well. Were you thinking of having Chinese food, sir?

Mr. Laurens: Exactly.

Manager: Actually, we have four combination menus for banquet. Here they are. You see, several traditional Chinese dishes and drinks are included for each menu, discount already given. And we offer fruits for free.

Mr. Laurens: Well... sounds reasonable. I think set NO 1 looks fine, according with our budget. What do you think, honey?

Mrs. Laurens: You're the boss.

Manager: Well, let me repeat your order: Raffles Room at 1:10 p.m. on 12 June, NO.1 set meal. Is that right?

Mr. Laurens: Exactly. Thank you.

Manager: My pleasure. Everything would be ready for your wedding banquet then. I hope you would have an unforgettable wedding party.

4. The Orders for a Banquet

(Scene: A guest is booking a banquet for two tables in a Chinese restaurant with the banquet manager.)

(G: Guest, M: Manager)

G: Are you the banquet manager here?

M: Yes. Can I help you?

G: I'm going to invite some friends to dinner in the evening the day after tomorrow. Where should I order dinner?

M: What kind of dishes would you like?

G: Two tables of Chinese dishes.

M: Could I know your budget?

G: I'd like my banquet at one thousand yuan a table excluding drinks. How many courses are there altogether?

M: Two cold dishes, one soup, six dishes and two desserts. I will show you the menu later.

G: Please arrange a sitting room for us.

M: You have to pay extra fee for a sitting room.

G: Will the dishes be enough?

M: That's enough, I think. We ensure not only quantity but also quality. Will you please pay the deposit?

G: How much shall I pay now?

M: You may pay the whole amount or half of it. By the way, are there any drivers coming? We can provide special food for drivers. Is there anything else you want us to do for you?

G: Nothing else. It's very considerate of you.

M: You are welcome.

Western Style Banquet

Banquet is very normal in nowadays society. There is much etiquette in the banquet especially in western style. For example, people have to wear evening dress for the banquet. The hotel staff also needs to maintain organization of banquet service areas. However, do you know how to eat western food?

Western-style food refers to the food or dinner cooked according to the customs of western countries. Western-style food is originated in Europe and the European cooking methods were conveyed by an Italian — Martin Polo to China. Later, after the Opium War, it was transferred from “residential dish” to “western restaurant” and then “western-style food restaurant” run by Chinese people. It was only served for some officials and business men.

In recent years, the number of foreign guests increased rapidly. More and more hotels have western-style food services. At the same time, more and more Chinese people have accustomed to the hobby of eating western-style food.

When eating western-style food, you can talk with others freely and lightly. But, when you talk with others, don't chew the food in your mouth. Generally speaking, clean your lips with napkins before talking or drinking.

When eating western-style food, you cannot hold the plate when eating; cannot stab the food while eating the large piece of food. You should cut the food into small pieces and then put them into your mouth.

When eating western-style food, the way of eating is similar to the way of eating Cantonese food. That is—drink soup first and then eat the dishes. When drinking the soup, and hold the spoon with right hand, the spoon should face the outer side to ladle out the soup, and then put it into the mouth. Don't make any sound while drinking the soup.

When eating western-style food, the bones and thorns should not be put into the mouth when you meet the dishes which have them. The food which already eaten into the mouth cannot be spit out. So you should know the food you eat when eating western-style food. For the food which you are not so sure or the food which you don't like, then you'd better not put them into your mouth.

When eating western-style food, if you leave the table without finishing the dinner, you should put the knife and fork crossed beside the plate, let the edge of the knife faces inside. If you have finished your meal, you should put the knife and fork side by side to show that the plate can be removed.

西餐宴会

宴会活动在如今社会非常普遍。参加宴会有许多礼仪，尤其是西餐宴会。例如，人们需要穿着礼服出席晚宴，酒店员工还需要维护宴会厅区域的整齐有序。但是，你知道如何吃西餐吗？

西餐是指根据西方国家的习俗烹调的食物或主餐。它起源于欧洲的烹调方法，是由意大利人马丁·波罗传到中国的。后来，鸦片战争后，它从“家常菜”转变到“西餐厅”，然后到中国人经营的“西式餐厅”。这也只是为一些官员和商人服务的。

近年来，外国游客的数量迅速增加。越来越多的酒店有西餐服务。与此同时，越来越多的中国人已经习惯了吃西餐。

吃西餐时，你可以与他人轻松自由地交谈。但是，当你与别人交谈时，不要咀嚼食物。一般来说，谈话或喝水前请用餐巾纸清洁你的嘴唇。

吃西餐时，你不能按住盘子吃饭，有大块食物时也不能戳着食物吃。你应该把食物切成小块，然后再把它们放进嘴里。

吃西餐时,吃的方法与吃粤菜的方法相似。这就是先喝汤后吃菜。喝汤时,用右手持勺,勺子要向外侧舀出汤,然后把它放入口中。喝汤的时候不要发出任何声音。

吃西餐时,当你遇到有骨头和刺的菜时,不要把它们放入口中。已经吃进嘴里的食品不能吐出。所以吃西餐时你应该知道你吃的食物是什么。如果不是那么肯定的食品或不喜欢的食物,那么你最好不要把它们放进嘴里。

吃西餐时,如果你要离开没有吃完的餐桌,应该把刀叉相交放在盘子上,让刀刃向内。如果你吃完了这一顿,你应该把刀叉肩并肩地摆好来示意盘子可以被撤走了。

1. Complaint about a Late Order and an Accident

(Scene: A guest is complaining about the late order. And he has even got a little angry when found a tiny hair in his dish. The waiter is trying to solve the problem.)

(G: Guest, W: Waiter, M: Manager)

G: Waiter. I ordered my meal at least thirty minutes ago and it still hasn't come. Why is it taking so long?

W: I'm very sorry, sir. I'll check your order with the chef. Would you like some appetizer while you are waiting?

G: Fine. Please do any hurry up! I have to catch the plane at 3 p.m.

W: Just a moment, please. (The waiter brings the dishes after 10 minutes) Your meal, sir. We're very sorry for the delay. Please enjoy your lunch.

G: (5minutes later) Waiter, waiter!

W: What's problem, sir? Can I be of assistance?

G: Look at my fruit salad! There is a tiny hair on the cabbage. You see? It's quite disgusting!

W: Oh, truly sorry sir. This is quite unusual. We'll look into the matter.

G: I waited for so long and then a hair in my salad! How awful. You really ruined my day! I have to speak to your manager.

W: Sorry sir, please calm yourself. I will get our manager.

M: I'm terribly sorry sir. There could have been some mistake. I do apologize. To express our regret for all the trouble, we offer you a 10% discount.

G: I do not think that's enough. How about my salad?

M: I will have them prepare another one. Would you like some drinks while you are waiting? The drinks will be on the house, of course.

G: I do not prefer cold drinks then.

M: Of course, sir. How about heated apple juice?

G: Well, all right.

M: Thank you, sir. We do apologize for the inconvenience again. We will soon bring you new salad and heated apple juice in a minute. I'm sure everything will be right again next time you come.

2. Cold Environment

(Scene: A guest feels cold in the restaurant. His friend is talking with the waiter and wants to turn up the heat.)

(G: Guest, W: Waiter)

G: Waiter. May I see you for a moment?

W: Yes, what can I do for you?

G: My friend is freezing.

W: I'm sorry, but I can't turn up the heat because we've had several complaints that it's too warm here.

G: I know. She arrived looking uncomfortable with hunger and cold.

W: Don't worry, sir. How about putting on your jacket?

G: All right. I don't particularly care for eating with my jacket on.

W: Perhaps you'd like to sit over there in the corner? There is less draught.

G: That's OK.

W: Besides, you may sit in our dining room. The room was furnished in warm reds and browns.

G: Good. I will tell you if we need.

3. Complaint about Food

(Scene: A guest is not satisfied with the steak. He thinks it is not very fresh.)

(W: Waiter, G: Guest)

W: Is everything to your satisfaction?

G: No, the steak was recommended, but it is not very fresh.

W: Oh. Sorry to hear that. This is quite unusual as we have fresh steak from the market every day. I'll look into the matter.

G: So what? It is not fresh and I'm not happy about it!

W: I'm sorry, sir. Do you wish to try something else? That would be on the house, of course, how about a delicious dessert, with our compliments?

G: No, I don't want to try something else, and find it's not fresh again! This is very annoying.

W: I see, sir. Just give us another chance, you will find this restaurant really lives up to its name. I'm sure everything will be all right next time you come.

G: All right. Maybe I'll come again.

W: Thank you very much, sir.

4. Complaint about the Dishes

(Scene: A guest wants to see the manager for he has a complaint about the dishes.)

(G: Guest, W: Waitress)

G: Excuse me, miss!

W: Can I help you, sir?

G: Yes. You may try the tenderloin, it's as tough as leather.

W: Excuse me, sir. But you wanted the steak to be cooked medium well.

G: So, you're telling me? Can I see the manager, please? I have a complaint.

M: Good evening, sir. I'm the manager of the restaurant and this is my business card.

G: Let me tell you something. I ordered the tenderloin medium well and it's not well done. And your waitress tried to put the blame on me. Is this the way you treat the guests?

M: (The manager asked the waitress to leave for some time.) I'm terribly sorry, sir. On behalf of the hotel, I apologize for what has happened. There might have been some misunderstanding. We should not blame any of our guests in any case. Shall I get another steak for you now? It'll be certainly on the house.

G: I don't think it will agree with my stomach.

M: Please be assured we'll look into the matter and our chef is very particular.

G: I'd rather not have any steak now.

M: Please try our smoked salmon if you don't mind.

G: All right, but I want it within 15 minutes.

M: Yes, sir. (10 minutes later) Sorry to have kept you waiting, sir. This is the salmon.

G: Well, the salmon doesn't taste good. There is an unusual flavour.

M: The salmon is smoked with coffee. It might taste of coffee.

G: Ah, I see. There is a coffee-like flavour in the fish. Sorry, I should not have said anything negative about the fish.

M: Never mind.

Class Activity Role-Play

Scene One: A guest has a complaint that he thinks sometimes he had to wait too long for dishes. And occasionally there were one or two pieces of tableware that didn't look so clean.

Scene Two: Mr. White personally prefers to dine in a quiet place. He found it was a bit noisy here. Besides, he saw some customers smoking in spite of the warning "No Smoking" on the wall. He would appreciate it if the waiter could deal with this.

Complaints

Hotel staff, like people working in other service businesses, is bound to receive complaints and criticisms as well as compliments and commendations. Some of the complaints and criticisms are well justified and very constructive. They are perfect reminders of the areas of a hotel service that still leaves something to be desired. Other complaints are just results of fastidious and difficult personalities. People who make complaints and criticism can be friendly and reasonable or they can also be rude and abusive. No matter how the person behaves, the hotel staff should always try and be nice to them. An argument with the guest is the most undesirable thing that can happen to a staff member and the hotel.

In handling complaints, the hotel staff should always be polite and helpful. He/she should always be ready to lend an attentive ear to what the guest has to say and always hear the guest out. He/she must not interrupt the guest unless necessary. It is advisable for him/her to jot down what the guest has said. He/she should then make a short apology and express his/her understanding of the guest's situation or sympathy with the guest. Only when he/she puts himself/herself in the guest's shoes can he/she look at the problem from other person's perspective. And only when the staff member can look at the guest's problem in the guest's way can he/she be ready to sympathize with the guest. After that the staff members should take actions quickly to remove the complaint, either by making polite, patient and detailed explanations, or making swift, effective corrections and remedies, or reporting the complaints to a superior. But whatever he/she intend to do, he/she must keep the guest informed of the measures or actions he/she plans to take and when he/she will carry them out. It is not at all easy to be always nice to the guest, especially when the guest is unfriendly and rude, even abusive. But the success of any business in the hospitality industry depends on people-pleasures.

投 诉

酒店员工和其他服务企业的工作人员一样,可能会受到投诉和批评,以及赞美和表扬。有些投诉和批评是合理的,而且非常有建设性。它们是完美的提醒者,尤其是对酒店服务等领域不尽如人意的地方。其余的投诉则是过分苛刻和性格挑剔的结果。投诉和批评的人可能是友好的和合理的,也可能是粗鲁的和辱骂的。不管他们如何表现,员工都应该对他们友好。对于员工和酒店来说,与客人争论是最不可取的事情。

酒店员工在处理投诉时,应该总是彬彬有礼、乐于助人的。他/她应该随时准备倾听顾客的意见。不要打断客人的讲话,除非在必要情况下。可取的做法是酒店员工要记下客人的讲话,然后他/她要做个简短的道歉,并表示他/她了解了客人的情况或表示同情。只有站在客人的立场,才能从客人的视角来看待问题。只有员工以客人的方式来看待客人的问题,他/她才会同情客人。之后,员工应采取行动,迅速解决投诉,或礼貌、耐心细致地解释,或做出迅速、有效的纠正和补救,或向上级报告投诉。但是无论他/她打算做什么,都要告知客人他/她采取的方法或行动,还有问题什么时候可以解决。总是友好地对待客人不是一件容易的事情,尤其当客人不友好和粗鲁,甚至破口大骂时。但在酒店餐饮业中任何业务的成功都取决于顾客的高兴和满意。

1. In the Health Club

【拓展音频】

(Scene: After dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Brown come to the Health Club. A clerk is showing them around.)

(C: Clerk, M: Mrs. Brown, B: Mr. Brown)

C: Good evening, sir and madam. May I help you?

M: We're really interested in your health club. Can you show us around?

C: Certainly, this way, please. We're proud of our health club. It is considered the best of its kind in our city.

B: I think it's very modern and well-equipped.

C: Let's start over here. There is our aerobics room. There's a class going on right now. Over here is our gymnasium. We have all the latest equipment.

M: But I haven't used exercising equipment before. Can you tell us some more details?

C: Certainly. We have the race apparatus, stationary bikes, rowing machines, muscle builder sets, chest-expanders, bar bells, dumb bells, spring-grips, wall bars and so on.

B: Working in the gymnasium is a very good way for overcoming a weight problem. What else do you have?

C: This way please. Besides the gym, we have a billiard room, a squash court. The chess room is on the second floor. Next to it is the dance hall. We hold dance at night every day. Bowling center and mini-golf on the third floor. They're all open from morning till midnight. Also, there are some sauna rooms and beauty saloon on the forth floor. All these are ready to serve you at your convenience. In addition, we have an indoor swimming pool on the top floor.

M: That's wonderful! I like swimming. How about outdoor activities?

C: We have a nine-hole golf course and four tennis courts. Here is another exercise room. You've probably heard of our traditional Chinese exercises: taijiquan and qigong.

B: Yes, of course. I've seen them on TV.

C: Mr. Zhang will give a qigong class this evening at 7 p.m. Why don't you go and have a look?

B: That's a good idea. We'll go there this evening.

C: You are welcome at any time.

2. At Sauna

(Scene: A guest comes to the hotel's sauna room, The recreation clerk is talking with her.)

(C: Clerk, G: Guest)

C: Good morning, sir. Here is the hotel's sauna room. What can I do for you?

G: Yes. This is the first time I've come here. Could you please tell me something about it?

C: Sure. Those who have heart disease or high blood pressure are not allowed to take sauna, for their sake

G: Thank you for telling me about this. What should I do here?

C: First, change your shoes to slippers. Then walk up to the changing room to get prepared for a shower.

G: OK. How about after the shower?

C: After the shower, step into the washroom with birch switches, dip them in the warm water and briskly whisk them over your skin.

G: That sounds comfortable.

C: Yes, then enter the bathroom. There is a stove tired with wood in the room, and on the top of the stove, there is a pile of stones, which keep the heat. Throw some water on the stones, and dry steam is given off.

G: Thanks a lot. I'll have a try.

C: My pleasure.

3. At the Indoor Swimming Pool

(Scene: Mrs. Smith and her daughter come to the indoor swimming pool of the Atlantic Hotel.

A clerk comes to greet them.)

Clerk: Welcome to our hotel's indoor swimming pool, madam. How may I help you?

Guest: Yes, I'm Mrs. Smith in Room 1102.

Clerk: Welcome! For registered guests, swimming is free of charge.

Guest: But my daughter is 6-year old. I'm wondering whether the water is too cool to swim in.

Clerk: Children under 12 are not allowed to use the pool unless accompanied by a parent. Will you be here with her, madam?

Guest: Yes, of course.

Clerk: That's OK. Don't worry, madam. Ours is a solar heated one with a temperature of some 28 degrees centigrade now.

Guest: Fantastic! You see, we are not good swimmers. Can you tell me how deep the pool is?

Clerk: Never mind, madam. We have full-time coaches to ensure your safety. The deepest place is 2.5 meters. You can swim in the shadow area, which is only one-meter in depth.

Guest: That's good.

Clerk: And we have separate locker rooms over there. You can use them free of charge. You can also have a shower there.

Guest: Thank you. I'll do that.

Clerk: Have fun. If you need something else, please don't hesitate to call me.

4. At the Billiard Room

(Scene: On Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Smith come to the Billiard Room. A clerk comes to greet them.)

(C: Clerk, M: Mrs. Smith, S: Mr. Smith)

C: Good afternoon, madam and sir. Welcome to our Billiard Room.

M: Good afternoon. Oh, it's crowded.

C: Yes, we are often fully occupied on Saturdays and Sundays. Please take your seats to wait for a few minutes.

(15 minutes later)

C: Sorry to have kept you waiting. Now this way, please.

S: The billiard room looks very spacious and has got four pool tables.

C: Yes, sir. We have snookers and pools, what would you like?

S: We'd like the pool. Lady is fit for it, I think.

C: Come this way, please. They are fifteen balls. The scoreboard is on the wall over there.

S: Thanks. What's the cost for it?

C: 40 yuan per hour. There is no fee for registered guests. Would you like some drinks?

S: Yes, two bottles of beer.

C: OK. I'll bring them right away. Please enjoy your time.

The Recreation Center

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy and work while you work, and play while you play. This is the way to make you happy and gay." These are popular sayings, which mean that all men need recreation. One can't work all the time if he is going to maintain good health and enjoy life.

As leisure time in people's lives increases, and health becomes people's first consideration, opportunities for recreation become more important and practical. Therefore, more and more hotels make entertainment and recreation programs and complete facilities. Guests of all ages with all degrees of emotional and physical health go to the Recreation Center to do exercises to relax them or to enjoy nightlife.

The Recreation Center organizes and conducts a variety of entertaining and recreational activities for guests. These things are focused on arts, fitness and sports. The recreation staff must be good at motivating guests and sensitive to their needs. Besides good healthy and physical stamina, they should know how to maintain recreational sports apparatus, supervise all exercises, and be able to make judgments.

康乐中心

“只工作，不玩耍，聪明小孩也变傻。工作时好好工作，玩耍时尽情玩耍。这才是让你幸福和快乐的生活方式。”这句时下最流行的说法说明了一个道理：所有人都需要娱乐。一个人如果要保持健康并享受生活，就不可能永远只工作不休息。

随着人们休闲时间增加，健康成为人们的第一考虑要素。娱乐机会变得更重要、更现实。因此，越来越多的酒店建立康乐中心，推出各种康乐活动，其设施设备一应俱全。那些有不同程度的心理或生理健康状况的各年龄层次的客人，都去康乐中心做运动，以放松身心，享受夜生活。

康乐中心为客人组织开展各种有关艺术、健身和体育等娱乐休闲活动。康乐服务人员必须善于激发客人的各种需求，并对他们的需求保持敏感。除了拥有良好的健康和体能，他们应该知道如何保养各种运动器材，监管所有的练习，并能在安全等方面做出正确的判断。

1. At the Beauty Salon

(Scene: Mrs. Graham is at the beauty parlor. The staff is talking with her and recommending a stylist to her.)

(S: Staff, G: Mrs. Graham, St: Stylist)

S: Good afternoon, madam. Welcome to our parlor.

G: Good afternoon. I'm Mrs. Graham. I have an appointment for a perm.

S: Oh yes, Mrs. Graham. Could you sit here, please? Do you have your own stylist?

G: No, I haven't.

S: May I recommend one of our best stylists?

G: Thank you.

S: Good afternoon, madam. I'm No.3 designer, glad to be at your service. How do you like your hair done?

G: I'd like it done in one of the latest styles. Could you show me some pictures of hair styles?

S: Certainly, Mrs. Graham. Here are some of the latest styles in fashion now: hair sweptback, chaplet, shoulder-length, horse-tail style, etc. Choose one, please.

G: Thank you. I prefer this one, but trim a little on the sides.

S: I think you would look cute with short hair. Perhaps you should go even shorter than in the picture. The short hair wave may right for you. It fits your face very well.

G: You are right. I would like to have a try. By the way, I also want my hair dyed.

S: What color do you like?

G: Light brown, how do you think about it?

S: Yellow is right for your skin.

G: OK, I'll take it.

S: Very well. Now let me explain what I'll do. I'll cut your hair to the middle of your back, have it curled inside at the ends. And then, I'll part it in the middle and make it wavy at the sides. First of all, Jack will give you a shampoo. I want to cut your hair wet.

...

S: Please have a look. How do you think of your new hairstyle?

G: Oh, you've done a beautiful job. I like it very much.

S: And it's easy to take care of.

G: Thank you.

2. Manicure

(Scene: Mrs. Green wants to have a manicure and a pedicure. The Manicurist is serving her.)

(M: Manicurist, G: Mrs. Green)

G: Hello. I want to know how much it costs to have a manicure and a pedicure?

M: Usually, it's 60 dollars for a manicure and 80 dollars for a pedicure. But with this special discount, the total for both is only 120 dollars. And you can get them painted as well for free.

G: That's nice. I'd like to give it a try. I think I'd like Passion Red please.

M: All right. Do you want your cuticles cut, too?

G: No.

M: Would you like the shape square or round?

G: Square, but with rounded edges, please.

(After a while)

M: All right, it's done. Please follow me to the drying section.

G: How long will it take to get them dry?

M: In about five minutes, you'll be all set.

G: I see. Thank you.

3. Facial Treatment

(Scene: It's Mrs. Black's first time to go to the beauty salon. She is asking the beautician some information about the facial treatment.)

(B: Beautician, M: Mrs. Black)

B: Good evening, madam. May I help you?

M: I want a facial. But this is the first time I've come here, can you tell me how you do it?

B: Sure. Most facials start with a thorough cleaning. Then we usually use a toner to invigorate the skin, followed by exfoliation treatment—a peeling mask or scrub that removes the dead cells which makes the skin look dull. After that, we'll massage your face and neck with oil or cream to improve the circulation and relieve the tension, followed by a mask to moisturize and soften the skin.

M: That's exactly what I want. How long does it take?

B: We have half-hour and one-hour treatments.

M: What's the regular price?

B: Well, the half hour facial costs 50 yuan and the one hour costs 80 yuan. If you want a make-up, another 30 yuan will do.

M: Good, I will take the one-hour facial with make-up.

B: That's fine, madam.

M: By the way, could you give me a manicure? Use a light nail polish, please.

B: Yes, madam.

Men's Hairstyles

In some countries, long hair has been in vogue for more than ten years now. The problem of distinguishing a man from a woman by hairstyle has become too familiar to be taken seriously. Among other things, people have learnt that hairstyles are a deceptive indicator of sex. A person's way of walking, the body shape and the clothing are more reliable in this respect. Worth mentioning is that very long hair for men is losing its popularity.

Indeed, if one pays close attention to hairstyles, one will discover men and women nowadays wear more or less identical hairstyles. This is not to say, of course, that the difference between a barber and a hairdresser no longer exists, but it does mean that similar services can be found in both establishments. Nowadays a man does not go to a barber only for a haircut. Instead, he might want a permanent wave, which makes his hair as wavy as any fair lady's. Even shaving, so masculine and regarded only as necessary for men, takes another form when it appears in a ladies' beauty-parlor. Although a delicate process is involved that is not easily comprehensible, electrolysis is just as efficient as any razor blade and shaving cream in removing women's facial hair.

There are people who still prefer the conventional hairstyles and women do look more natural with feminine styles. To pursue this end, hair stylists have invented more equipment than one can name. Hair clippers, and curlers appear very primitive in the company of recent innovations, which make use of new discoveries in other fields of knowledge such as biochemistry, electronics and psychology. For the first category, hairsprays, conditioners and hair-restorer are the products of the joint-efforts of fashion and chemistry. Convenient sets of dryers and blowers would not have come into being without knowledge of modern physics. As for psychology, it seems that it is used widely by hairdressers to convince their customers that "original" is another word for "bad-looking".

Men's hairstyles remain simpler by comparison, despite the efforts of stylists to compete with the women's in complexity. Perhaps, there is really a natural lack of concern over appearance in some men. Although a barber's now provides different kinds of services, a trip to a barber's still means a haircut, a shampoo and a shave to most men. Nevertheless, even simple operations like these work wonders for one's appearance. They can turn a dishevelled beggar into a successful businessman. Freshness, brightness and optimism are all conveyed by a proper hairstyle.

男士发型

在一些国家,长发已经流行了十多年了。因此,人们往往通过发型来区分性别,但现在人们已经认识到,通过发型来判断性别很容易出错,所以要谨慎使用发型来区分性别。通过一个人的走路方式、身材体形和着装来判断性别更可靠。值得一提的是,男性的长发正在逐渐受到冷落。

事实上,如果关注到发型,就会发现如今男性和女性留着大致相同的发型。当然,这并不是说,男性理发店和女士美容院之间的差异不再存在,但我们确实发现两种店都提供类似的服务。如今,一位男士进理发店不只为剪发,他也可能会想烫一个和任何窈窕淑女一样的波浪发型。甚至被认为是男子专利的剃须,也以另一种形式出现在女士美容厅。虽然整个精细过程不太容易理解,但电解作用在去除女士面部毛发方面与剃须刀及剃须霜修理男士胡须一样高效。

有些人还是喜欢传统的发型,认为这种风格更自然。为了改变人们的这种观念,发型师们发明了很多甚至我们都很难叫出名字的设备。其中,最有代表性的是理发剪和卷发器,这

些发明运用了生化、电子和心理学等方面的知识。例如，发胶、护发素和生发剂是时尚和化学催生的产品；同样，如果没有现代物理学的知识，就没有各种各样使用方便的吹风机和烘发机等；至于心理学，这是理发师们使用最广泛的知识，他们运用各种心理学知识让客人相信“自然、原始”的发型是“丑”的代名词。

尽管发型师们竭尽所能让男士的发型和花样百出的女士发型相竞争，相比较而言，男士的发型仍然要简单得多。或许一些男性天生就不太关注自己外貌。虽然现在理发店提供不同种类的服务，但对于大多数男性来说，理发师的工作仍然是理发、洗发和剃须。但是，像这些简单操作的工作仍然能完全改变一个人的外貌。他们可以把一个披头散发的乞丐变成一个成功的商人。一个适当的发型不仅让人感受到你的生气勃勃、活泼愉快，还能感受到你的积极乐观。

1. At the Ball Room

(Scene: Mr. and Mrs. Black are walking to the nightclub. They stop in front of the ball room and ask for some information about it.)

(S: Staff, M: Mrs. Black, B: Mr. Black)

S: Good evening, sir and madam. Welcome to our Moon Star Club. What can I do for you?

M: Good evening. Would you give us some information about dancing hall?

S: Certainly, madam. Most young people like modern dances, such as rock & roll, the twist and the break dance. What dance do you like?

M: I like the old graceful style of dances as waltz, rumba, tango and fox trot.

S: I admire you! The waltz is available tonight.
 B: Great. Do you have a discount for ladies?
 S: Yes, we give ladies a 50 % discount.
 B: Good. We'll have a try now.
 S: OK, Would you please let me put your clothes at the cloak room?
 B: Thank you.
 S: Now follow me, please. Where would you like to sit, at a table or at the bar?
 B: Well, I prefer to sit not far away from the bar.
 S: This way, please.
 M: I like it here.
 M: The dance hall looks very nice and the music is wonderful.
 S: I'm glad you like it. Would you like something to drink?
 M: Yes, I'd like a glass of ginger ale with ice. Richard, what would you like?
 B: Do you have a dry white wine?
 S: How about a California Chablis?
 B: Chablis will be fine.
 S: Here are your drinks. Please enjoy them.

2. At Karaoke Bar

(Scene: After dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Steward go to the Karaoke bar. The staff is talking with them.)

(S: Staff, M: Mr. Steward, MS: Mrs. Steward, W: Waiter)
 S: Good evening. Welcome to our Recreation center. How many persons do you have?
 M: Two.
 S: Yes, sir. Which do you prefer, VIP room or regular room?
 MS: How do you charge?
 S: For VIP room, 180 yuan per hour, not including the drinks. 80 yuan for regular room including the drinks. Are you staying in our hotel?
 M: Yes, we are. We are in Room 1622.
 S: Mr...?
 M: Steward. Here is our room card.
 S: OK, Mr. Steward. Since you are registered guests, you can have a 10% discount.
 M: Oh, I see. VIP room, please.
 S: Follow me, please. Is this room all right?
 M: That's good.
 W: Welcome to our bar, sir and madam. Here is a song list, song order slip and a pen. Just write down the songs you want on the slip. Our DJ will prepare the songs for you. By the way, what would you like to drink? Here is the drink list.
 M: I'd like some soda water.

W: OK. What about you, madam?

MS: A glass of orange juice, please. Would you tell us what kinds of songs you have got here?

W: We have Mandarin, Cantonese and Taiwanese songs, English songs, Italian songs, Japanese songs, and French songs. You name it, and we have it. You may consult the song list. Take your time. I'll be with you shortly.

...

W: Here're your soda water and orange juice. Can I take your song order now?

M: Yes. I'd like to sing the English song "My Heart Stays with You".

W: Yes, sir. Please wait a moment. Your first song "My Heart Stays with You" will begin soon. Enjoy your time.

...

MS: (She waves to the waitress.) May we have the bill?

W: Yes, please sign your name here. The hotel will charge you when you leave.

MS: Thank you.

W: You're welcome. Goodbye.

3. At Chess and Card Room

(Scene: Mr. and Mrs. Green are walking to the Mahjong room. A staff is greeting them.)

(S: Staff, M: Mr. Green, G: Mrs. Green)

S: Good afternoon, sir and madam. Welcome to the Mahjong room.

M: Mahjong, what is it?

S: Mahjong, also known as Mah Jong, is a traditional Chinese recreational game. Mahjong is very similar to Rummy and is played with tiles.

M: Can we play mahjong now?

S: Certainly, yes, sir. But you still need two other persons to play together. It is somewhat like playing cards.

M: Really? Sounds interesting. Would you say something more?

S: OK. It needs four people to play mahjong. And if you are really interested in playing, we have a supervisor here who can teach you how to play with it and at the same time he'll tell you all the detailed regulations.

G: What's the price?

S: If it is in a single room, the price is 200 yuan till midnight, including small towels tea and a dish of peanuts. Of course, you can order drinks, but that will be charged. If one would like to play in the hall where there are many other tables together, the price is much cheaper, only 80yuan till midnight.

G: Richard, I don't think we can learn to play mahjong at once. Besides, it seems very time-consuming.

M: What a pity! Thank you very much. Maybe next time. Bye-bye.

S: Next time, please have a try. Bye-bye.

4. In the Tea Room

(Scene: Mrs. Green is at the tea room. A staff is serving her.)

(S: Staff, G: Mrs. Green)

S: Welcome to our tea room. What can I do for you, madam?

G: I'd like some tea, please.

S: We offer green tea, black tea, oolong tea, scented tea and compressed tea. Which tea do you prefer?

G: Green tea, please.

S: About green tea, we have got Dragon Well tea from Hangzhou and Bi Luo Chun from Jiangsu.

G: I've heard a lot about Dragon Well tea. So, Dragon Well tea, please. By the way, what kind of black tea do you have?

S: The most famous one is oolong. It's said that it can help people reduce weight.

G: Really? You mean I should drink some oolong, don't you?

S: No. I should say you're slim and green tea is the wisest choice, especially in summer.

G: Thank you. What's jasmine tea?

S: Oh, it's a kind of green tea with the smell of jasmine. Beijing people like it very much. They prefer a strong tasting tea.

G: I see.

S: Would you like to have your tea now, madam?

G: Yes, please.

S: A cup of Dragon Well tea for you.

G: That's right.

Health Spa

An ever-increasing emphasis on physical fitness and overall health has provided a new and major amenity which many resort hotels can offer—the health spa.

The original concept of spas was associated with springs producing mineral water containing various salts, such as carbonates, phosphates and sulphated metals, i. e. magnesium, calcium, lithium, potassium and sodium. It is a place where people come for cures of various diseases.

However, recently the popularity of the traditional mineral water destinations has decreased, and they have been replaced as destinations in demand by new modern-style spas offering a wide range of facilities and services.

Spa facilities can be best described as both recreational and exercise-oriented. Many of the more recreational facilities are commonly found as part of a hotel's guest facilities.

Swimming pools, tennis course, handball and racquetball courts are commonly used by spa activity participants but also by regular hotel guests.

Other spa facility programs can be jogging or running tracks, aerobic exercises, and various kinds of exercise machines. There are also some types of treatment offered in spas, such as the body or facial massage and other massages, the herbal wrap which is used to relax and soothe the muscles and detox the skin.

Where spa programs are offered as an option to hotel guests, the spa should be operated as an operation department of the hotel, however, the management of the department and the spa facility should be in the hands of a professional spa manager.

健身温泉水疗

随着人们对体能和健康的日益重视,许多度假酒店开始提供一个新型舒适设施服务——健身温泉水疗。

对水疗最原始的概念来自于含有碳酸盐、磷酸盐和硫酸盐等多种盐类,以及富含镁、钙、锂、钾、钠等多种金属的矿泉水。它是人们治疗各种疾病的地方。

然而,最近传统矿泉水旅游景区的人气有所下降,它们已经被拥有新现代风格的,可提供各种设施和服务的水疗中心所替代。

各种水疗设施既可以是娱乐的也应该是以运动为导向的。许多康乐设施是酒店设施的一部分。

不仅泡温泉的客人经常光顾游泳池、网球、手球和壁球场,酒店常住客人也经常来玩。

其他水疗设施可以是慢跑或跑道、有氧运动,以及各种健身器材。也有一些温泉水疗提供如身体或面部等其他按摩,以及放松和舒缓肌肉和皮肤的排毒草药包等各方面的疗养。

酒店为客人提供水疗服务,水疗中心应作为酒店的一个部门经营,其运营和设施应由专业的水疗经理来管理。

1. Opening a Bank Account

(Scene: Mrs. Green wants to open a checking-savings account in the bank. The clerk is receiving her.)

(C: Clerk, G: Mrs. Green)

C: Good morning, Mrs. Green. What can I do for you?

G: I want to open a checking-savings account in the bank. Will 50 US dollars' deposit be enough for opening an account?

C: Yes, Mrs. Green. Our minimum deposit for a savings account is US $50. Now please first fill in this form and then go to Window 3.

G: Thank you.

C: It's my pleasure.

2. Asking about Savings

(Scene: Grace wants to draw on her account to pay the things she bought in China, and the clerk is serving her.)

Clerk: Can I help you, Miss?

Grace: Yes. I want to pay for the things I bought in China. Can I draw on my account here?

Clerk: Of course. What do you want, US dollars or Euros?

Grace: Euros.

Clerk: How much do you want?

Grace: 500 Euros.

Clerk: According to today's rate, one Euro is equivalent to 7.11 yuan. Here is RMB 3555 yuan. Keep the exchange memo, please.

Grace: Thank you.

3. Asking about Deposit

C: Excuse me, may I exchange foreign currency against RMB here?

B: Fill up the application form and sign your name, please.

C: OK.

B: Your sum, please?

C: 500 dollars.

B: The exchange rate fluctuates every day. Let me check. According to the list of exchange rate quotation today, 100 dollars can be exchanged for RMB 626 in cash, or for RMB 827 in traveler's cheque. Which do you prefer, in cash, or in cheque?

C: The rate for cheque seems to be more favorable.

B: So you prefer traveler's cheque? Since the rate is RMB 827 against USD 100, USD 500 will be RMB 4135.

C: Yes.

B: But you need to pay a 0.75% commission for the exchange.

C: OK. Then i will get RMB 4104.

B: Correct. Any requirement for the face amount?

C: No requirement.

B: OK. Here you are.

Foreign Exchange

Foreign exchange refers to currency and money claims, such as bank balances and bank drafts, which is expressed in the equivalent value in foreign money. Thus, a pound sterling note is money in Great Britain, but is foreign exchange in the USA. Deposit of US $1000 in an American bank to the account of a French company constitutes that amount of foreign exchange in France. The term foreign exchange is also used to refer to transactions involving the conversion of money of one country into that of another or to the international transfer of money and credit instruments.

The use of foreign exchange arises because different nations have different monetary units, and the currency of one country cannot be used for making payments in another country. Because of trade, and other transactions between individuals and business enterprises of different countries, it becomes necessary to convert money into the currency of other countries in order to pay for goods or services in those countries.

外 汇

外汇是指用等价外国货币形式表现出来的货币和货币债权，如银行往来余额和银行汇票。因此，一英镑钞票在英国是货币，而在美国就是外汇。存入美国银行的法国公司账户上的 1000 美元就成了同样金额的法国外汇。外汇一词同样用来表示涉及货币从一国向另一国转换的交易或涉及国际货币和信用票据的转换。

外汇之所以产生是因为不同国家采用不同货币单位，一个国家的货币不能用来对另一国家进行支付。由于不同国家之间的私人和公司企业进行贸易、旅游和其他不同的交易活动，有必要将一国的货币转换成别国货币以便支付这些国家所提供的商品或服务。

1. Sending a Letter and Picking Up Package at the Post Office

(Scene: A customer goes to the post office and the clerk is serving him.)

Clerk: Next please...Hello, may I help you, sir?

Customer: Yes, I want to send a certified airmail letter to China.

Clerk: OK, it comes to US $ 3.45.

Customer: Here is US $5.

Clerk: Here is your change. Please wait for your receipt of the registered mail.

(After a while....)

Clerk: Here is your receipt. Anything else?

Customer: Yes, two aerograms, ten postcards, one roll of fifty 15-cent stamps and five airmail stamps.

Clerk: That's be US $11.60. Anything else?

Customer: I also want to pick up my package. This is the notice.

Clerk: Let me see...Hm...Just a minute. Here it is. We need your signature on this note.

Customer: OK. By the way, what is the size and weight limit for mailing a package?

Clerk: It is US $3 per kilo. The size is not more than 33 inches by 25 by 12. It also must be tied with string.

Customer: Can you write it down for me?

Clerk: Sure.

Customer: Oh, one more thing. Can I have this letter airmailed to New York?

Clerk: Well, we send all the first class mail by plane to the East Coast, so you don't need an airmail stamp.

Customer: I see. By the way, where can I mail this letter?

Clerk: Drop it in the mail box marked "Out Of Town" at the corner.

Customer: Thank you very much.

Clerk: You are welcome.

J: Excuse me, but could you please tell me where the nearest post office is? I'm going to mail a letter.

R: Do you wish to send it as an ordinary or registered letter?

J: What's the difference?

R: If you want to post an ordinary letter, you needn't go to the post office, you can drop it into the nearest pillar-box.

J: I want to send this letter by registered mail.

R: In that case, you'll have to go to the post office.

J: Thank you.

(Then Jack is now at the post office.)

J: Good afternoon. I want to send this letter to Beijing by registered mail. Is there enough postage on it?

C: The letter is rather heavy. You'd better have it weighed.

- J: How much does it weigh? Is it overweight?
C: It's 6 grams overweight. You need 2 yuan stamps.
J: Can I catch the last post today?
C: Oh, certainly. The last mail goes out at 6:30.

U. S. Postal Service

Phone books have white, blue and yellow pages. The white pages list people with phones by last name. The blue pages contain numbers of city services, government services, and public schools. Business and professional services are listed in a special classified directory—the Yellow pages.

The area covered by one area code may be small or large. For example, New York City has one area code, but so does the whole state of Oregon. There is an area code map of the U. S. and Canada in the front of the white pages.

Pay phones have numbers in the U. S. This means you can arrange to call a friend at a phone booth. Or if you are making a long distance call and run out of money, give the number on your phone to the person you're talking to. Then hang up the receiver and he can call you back.

If you make a long distance call and get a wrong number, call the operator and explain what happened. This means that you can make the call again to the right number without having to pay more money; or you can have the phone company mail you a credit coupon that has the same value as the phone call.

Some companies advertise a service called WATS. You can dial a special number without a long distance charge. These are called "toll-free numbers" and the area code for all of them is 800. WATS means Wide Area Telephone Service.

The U. S. Postal Service has competitors. Courier services send or transmit messages; parcels and freight are delivered by a number of companies. Check the Yellow Pages for details.

There are two ways of sending things safely through the post office: registered and certified mail. Certified is much cheaper. Ask at the post office for more information.

You can have mail sent to you through General Delivery in any town. It will be held ten days, or up to a month if the sender writes "Please hold 30 days" on the envelope. Using the zip code will speed up delivery.

Remember, you cannot usually send telegrams or make telephone calls from U. S. post offices.

美国的邮政服务

电话簿有白页、蓝页和黄页。白页刊登用户个人的电话号码，是按姓氏排列的。蓝页刊登城市服务、政府机构和公立学校的电话号码。黄页是商业和专业机构的分类电话号码。

一个区号的范围可大可小。例如，纽约市有一个区号，但是整个俄勒冈州也只有一个区号。在电话簿白页前有一张美国和加拿大区号的地图。

美国的付费电话是有号码的。这就是说，你可以在电话亭给朋友打电话。如果你在打长途电话时钱用完了，那么你可以把你的电话号码告诉对方。然后，你挂上听筒，对方就能给你打电话。

如果你打长途时电话号码拨错了，那么请给接线员打电话解释一下情况，你就可以再打正确的号码而不用另外付费；你也可以让电话公司寄给你退回电话费用的付款凭证。

有些公司推荐人们使用叫做 WATS 的服务项目。你可以拨一个特定的电话号码而不用付长途电话费。这种电话叫做“免费长途电话”，其区号都是 800。WATS 的意思是“跨地区电话服务”。

美国的邮政服务是有竞争对手的。信使专递可以收发信函；许多公司也运送包裹和货物。欲知详情，请看电话簿的黄页。

通过邮局进行安全投递有两种方式：挂号邮件和保证邮件。保证邮件要便宜很多。要知道更多的情况，请到邮局了解。

你在任何城市都可以通过“存局候领”收到邮件。邮局将保留 10 天，如果发信人在信封上写上“请保留 30 天”，邮局将最多保留 1 个月。使用邮政编码能加快投递。

请记住，通常你不能在美国邮局发电报或打电话。

Railroads

Historically the railroads played a vital role in the winning of the West. In recent times, however, the high-class train service of the early 20th century has become to a rather dilapidated and neglected system which doesn't compare to European train transportation. In America a traveler is much more likely to hop on a plane than a train. Long distances automatically imply an airplane, whereas a car or a bus will do for a short trip. Originally railroads were private companies. Today, they have been grouped into a national network of passenger service called Amtrak providing first and second class accommodations. Special tours including hotels and side trips are also organized by Amtrak.

Using the Telephone

Using the telephone is highly necessary while traveling. We use the telephone to tell our families, friends and other people how we getting on, to ask for information, to send messages, to ask for directions, and so on. When we are speaking on the phone, especially to someone we are not familiar with, politeness and clarity are probably the two most important things we should pay attention to. We must try our best to avoid any misunderstanding or confusion. At the same time, we must be certain to listen carefully and understand what is being said or asked of us. In simple terms, if we are calling, it is polite to offer a greeting, identify ourselves, and state our reason for calling. If we want to speak to someone in particular, ask for that person by name. If we are calling someone at a large company abroad, we might want to ask for the person's department first and then, when we are connected with someone in that department, ask for the person by name.

Situational Dialogues

1. At a Clothes Store

(Scene: On the last day of his tour in China, Tom is at the fashion shop to buy a coat for his girlfriend.)

(A: Shop Assistant, G: Guest)

A: Good morning, sir. May I help you?

G: I'd like to get a typical Chinese coat.

A: We have many types of coats with different designs. Please have a look.

G: That's great.

A: How about this one, with the mandarin duck and made of silk?

G: Well, this one is OK, but my girlfriend like the Chinese phoenix.

A: Oh, look at this pink coat. The background painting is the Chinese phoenix and flowers.

G: I like this one. The pink had a phoenix on, it would be perfect.

A: What size does she wear, sir?

G: Size 18. But I wonder if the color will fade in washing.

A: It's both colorfast and shrink-proof. And it is made of 100% silk.

G: OK. How much is it?

A: RMB 280 yuan.

G: I'll take it.

2. Casual Wear

(Scene: A guest is at the fashion shop to buy a overcoat, and the shop assistant is coming to her.)

(A: Shop Assistant, G: Guest)

A: Do you want some assistance, madam?

G: I'd like to see an overcoat for the autumn. Not too heavy and not too light.

A: How do you like this, madam?

G: It's much too light in color for the autumn. I'd rather have something darker, and a bit heavier.

A: What about this then? It's made of exceptionally good quality, pure wool, very soft.

G: Very good. May I try this on?

A: Please come with me to the fitting room.

G: I like this style, but I don't care for the color. It's loose at the waist, and it's a bit too large.

A: What about this one? We have this model in several sizes and colors, dark brown, light green, light yellow and crimson.

G: Let me see the crimson one, in my size, please.

A: Yes, madam. This is your size, it's a lovely dress and very smart. It's in fashion now.
Would you like to try it?

G: All right, it just suits me. I'll take it. How much do I have to pay?

A: Three hundred yuan.

G: That's rather more than I thought of paying. I should have something cheaper.

A: Maybe a little expensive, but the quality is very good, madam. It's exceptionally good in material and the handicraft is more exquisite. It wears very well and keeps its shape.

G: All right, I'll take it. I expect it's worth it. Can I pay by Visa?

A: We don't accept Visa, you have to pay cash.

G: OK. Will you accept Master Card?

A: Yes, we do. Please go to the cash counter and pay for it. I'll wrap it up for you.

G: All right, thank you.

3. Buying Chinese Silk Fabrics

(Scene: An American guest is standing by the silk counter and looking around with great interest. A shop assistant comes with a smile.)

(A: Shop Assistant, G: Guest)

A: Good afternoon, madam. What can I do for you?

G: Good afternoon. Have you got any fabrics?

A: Certainly, madam. We have silk fabrics, woolen fabrics, cotton fabrics as well as synthetic ones.

G: Could you show me some silk fabrics?

A: Sure, Madam. We've got a good selection of them, such as sand-washed silk, figured silk, reeled pongee, georgette, satin, brocade and taffeta. You see, we have got it here. You know, Wuxi and Suzhou are famous for silk production. Which do you prefer?

G: Figured satin, please.

A: I see. This is tapestry satin, and that is changeable satin.

G: That one looks beautiful. Will you please let me have a close look at it? How nice! Ah, you see, I need an evening dress. How many yards do you think I should buy?

A: Sorry, we don't sell fabrics by the yard, but by the meter. May you allow me to take your size? (The shop assistant takes the customer's size.) Two meters will be enough.

G: Thank you. Hmm, I wonder if the color will fade in washing.

A: It's colorfast. But please wash it in lukewarm water with certain amount of special detergent for silk washing and rinse it well. Don't rub or wring it. It needs ironing before wearing it.

G: Thanks. This is great. Besides, I want some taffeta for my blouse.

A: Which color do you prefer?

G: Prefer light colors.

A: Here's a light one. It's silver. Will this do?

G: Oh, silver doesn't agree to me. Do you have any other colors?

A: Yes, madam. What about ivory?

G: Ivory is my favorite. Please give me one meter.

A: Yes, madam. Anything else?

G: No. How much do I owe you then?

A: A moment, please. Two meters is 146 yuan, and one meter is 75 yuan. That will be 221 yuan altogether.

G: Can I pay with traveler's checks?

A: We don't accept traveler's checks, I'm afraid.

G: Will Master Card do?

A: Yes. May I have a print of your card?

(The shop assistant print the card and wraps up the fabrics.)

G: OK. Thank you.

4. Fashion

(Scene: A customer enters the shopping arcade, attracted by the beautiful dresses. A shop assistant is receiving her.)

(C: Customer, A: Shop Assistant)

C: I'd like to buy a dress closely related to Chinese culture as a reminder of my China trip.

What do you think will be the most suitable for me?

A: Well, madam. You have an excellent figure. Chi-pao is so popular with young ladies nowadays in China, so I think a Chi-pao will fit you.

C: Chi-pao? Would you show me one, please?

A: Certainly. How do you like this one? It's made of velvet. Black is quite in fashion this year.

C: Ah, that's my favorite color. I like it very much. May I try it on?

A: Sure, madam. Please come with me to the fitting room.

C: It looks gorgeous, but it's a bit too tight at the waist. What a shame!

A: What do you think of this one?

C: It's really elegant, but I'm afraid it's still a little tight across the shoulders.

A: I see. Please try that pink one, madam. It's made of brocade.

C: I like the style very much and the size fits me nicely. But don't you think this pink is too bright for me?

A: Yes, it is a very bright pink. Try that dark green one then.

C: It looks terrific on me. I'll take it. But I wonder if it is colorfast.

A: Yes. All the garments here are colorfast.

C: How much do you charge for this?

A: 820 yuan.

C: My god, that's too expensive.

A: It might be a little expensive, but the material is of the best quality, and our workmanship is the best in this city. It's worth every penny of it.

C: All right.

Shopping (I)

When making a purchase in the United States, you should be aware that, in most cases, the price on the label is not the price you pay. You will have to pay tax also. Usually the tax is between five and ten percent of the price on the label.

Also, in buying clothes including shoes, you should know that the sizes are measured differently in the U. S. from the way they are measured in China where we use the metric system. In these cases, you can always ask the clerk for help.

If you are looking for an expensive item, it is advisable to check in more than one store to compare their prices. There is no "state price" in the United States. Smart shoppers often look for "sales", a time you can get the same thing with the same quality at a much lower price.

购 物 (一)

在美国购物的时候你应该注意,在大多数情况下,标签上的价格并不是你所需付的价钱,你还得交税。通常来说,税金是价钱的 5%~10%。

还有买衣服、买鞋的时候,中国用的是公制单位,而美国衡量大小的方法与中国完全不同。在这种情况下,你可以请求售货员帮助。

如果你想买贵重物品,建议你对比一下几家商店的价格。在美国没有“国家规定价格”。聪明的购物者可以寻找一些打折促销的机会,这时你可以买到质量相同,但价格低廉的商品。

Situational Dialogues

1. Recommending Traditional Chinese Crafts

(Scene: Mrs. Green is interested in the traditional Chinese crafts, so she goes to the hotel's store to have a look. A shop assistant is receiving her.)

(S1: Shop Assistant 1, S2: Shop Assistant 2, G: Mrs. Green)

S1: Can I help you, madam?

G: Yes, please. May I take a look at the porcelain there?

S1: Those? They're not porcelain. They are cloisonné.

G: Oh, thanks for telling me. But they do look so similar.

S1: Yes, they do. The outside of cloisonné is covered with enamel but the body is actually made of a special type of copper. And the designs are also outlined by copper strips.

G: How wonderful! Is it for making tea? (Stop at the tea utensils counter)

S1: Yes, it is a teapot from Jingdezhen.

G: Jingdezhen? "The capital of porcelain," isn't it?

S1: Yes, it is. It produces the best quality porcelain in China. And the Jingdezhen is famous for its elegant modeling, beautiful figuration and lustrous color.

G: OK, I will buy this China tea set. How much is this?

S1: RMB 210 yuan. Perhaps you'd like to have the cloisonné set too. It's not expensive at all.

G: Yes, just the thing I need. Could you wrap them up carefully, please? I don't want to end up with a heap of broken vases when I get home.

S1: Certainly. We'll pack them carefully for you. Altogether RMB 380 yuan.

G: That's fine. Here is RMB 400 yuan.

S1: Here are the change and the receipt.

G: Thank you.

S1: Thank you for shopping. Wish you have fun in China.

(Mrs. Green turns to the embroidery counter.)

S2: Can I be of any assistance to you, madam?

G: Oh yes. I'd like to look at some of the embroidered table-cloths.

S2: Certainly. What size and shape do you want?

G: Let me see. I'd like one that's rectangular, and big enough for eight people.

S2: I see. We have several kinds over here. Would you come to look at them?

G: They're lovely. Simply exquisite! The design is beautiful. And it's very good material. Is it hand-made?

S2: Yes, it is. It's linen and made in Suzhou. Suzhou embroidery is considered the best among Chinese hand embroidery. It is exquisite in workmanship and multifarious in patterns.

G: Wonderful. I just can't decide which ones to buy. They're all so lovely. I'll just have to look through them slowly.

S2: That's all right. Take your time.

G: OK. I'll take this one. Besides table-cloths, do you have other embroidered articles?

S2: Yes. We have cushion-covers, curtains, pillow-cases, handkerchiefs and even 6-inch cup-holders.

G: I'd like to have a look at the handkerchiefs. They'll be good souvenirs.

S2: Here you are.

G: Well, I think I'll have these over here. How much are they?

S2: That's be 100 yuan for the whole set.

G: Oh, that's very steep for the handkerchiefs.

S2: But it's not expensive, considering their quality.

G: Anyhow, can you cut the price a bit?

S2: I'll offer you a special discount of 5%.

G: Well, I'll take them at your price.

2. Buying Jewelry

(Scene: A guest wants to buy some jewelry. A shop assistant is helping her.)

(G: Guest, A: Shop Assistant)

G: I want to buy some jewelry.

A: What kind of jewelry do you like to have?

G: I should like to look at some bracelets.

A: May I show you gold ones or platinum ones?

G: Gold ones.

A: Pure gold or Karat gold?

G: Pure gold ones, please.

A: Certainly, madam.

G: What's the price for this one?

A: Five hundred and fifty dollars.

G: How about five hundred dollars?

A: I'm sorry we only sell at fixed prices.

G: OK. I'll take it. I want to have my initials engraved on it.

A: Oh, that can be done.

G: I wish to buy a diamond ring, too.

A: How many carats would you like it to be?

G: I want three carats.

A: Is this one suitable for you?

G: No, it seems too old fashioned to me.

A: What about this?

G: Let me try it on. Oh, it's too small for me. Haven't you got any larger ones?

A: Then you may take that one. It's very nice and latest in style.

G: This fits me well. How much do you charge for it?

A: One thousand and two hundred dollars.

G: It's too expensive, I can only pay you one thousand dollars.

A: As I told you before, madam, our shop doesn't ask two prices.

G: Is that a real string of pearls?

A: Yes, that's genuine.

G: Will you guarantee it?

A: You may take it on my word, if you find out it is an imitation you may return it to me.

G: What does it cost?

S: It costs three hundred dollars.

G: Good, I'll have it. Have you got any brooches?

A: With diamond, ruby or sapphire?

G: Sapphire, please, how much is it?

A: Four hundred dollars.

G: All right, how much will it be altogether? Please send it to my address, I'll pay the messenger on delivery.

3. Recommending Typical Chinese Toys

(Scene: A customer is leaving China and wants to buy some typical Chinese souvenirs for her relatives and friends. The shop assistant is recommending some typical Chinese toys and paper-cutting to her.)

【拓展音频】

(A: Shop Assistant, C: Customer)

A: Good morning, madam. Could I be of service to you?

C: Yes, I'd like to see some typical Chinese toys.

A: We have a great variety of toys. Here's a giant panda, which is very popular. Many foreign visitors like to buy this panda.

C: What a lovely panda! It is a very rare animal, isn't it?

A: Yes, it is. China is the homeland of giant pandas so it could be an ideal gift for your relatives or friends.

C: It's so adorable. I'll buy both of them.

A: Thank you, madam. Anything else you want?

C: Yes. I'd like to buy some gifts for my aunt and uncle. What else do you recommend?

A: There are some local products available here. These are Wuxi Clay Figurines. The artisans of Wuxi mould figurines with local fine clay and then paint them in an exaggerated way. They all look life-like, especially the dramatic figures. They are the best. Here's one figure most foreign visitors like to buy, "daafu."

C: Wow, what a lovely baby!

A: This lucky fatty is considered the symbol of fortune and happiness.

C: I'm sure my aunt and uncle will love it. I'll take four of them. Is there anything else you can recommend to me?

A: What do you think of the paper-cuts? They are made by artisans of Yangzhou Arts and Crafts Institute.

C: I was wondering how they make the cutting.

A: With a pair of scissors and a piece of paper the artisans can produce paper cuttings of various kinds, human figures, landscapes, flowers, birds, etc. Paper cutting of Yangzhou has created a unique artistic style and strong local features. And most important, they are very convenient to take.

C: This is sensational. Please give me two sets, one of landscapes, the other of birds. Can you pack up the other things and send them to the U. S.?

A: Sure. Would you put down your address?

(She writes down the address: 46 Linden Street, Riverdale, New York.)

A: Thank you, madam. The Postage, of course, will be extra.

C: How much will the postage come to?

A: About 50 yuan by surface mail. There is also an extra charge of 50 yuan for the packing.

You know, we'll have to make a special wooden box.

C: That will be fine. Thank you.

A: You're welcome.

Shopping (II)

There are many “sales” in the U. S., and the stores will lower their prices. This may all be very confusing to the visitors. Which is the best product to buy out of hundreds to choose from? How are you going to know how to “get your money’s worth” when you shop? Perhaps the best advice is: Don’t hurry. Visit various stores and determine the quality of merchandise. Examine the goods carefully. Read the advertisements so that you can compare prices. Explore and examine before you buy. It is wise to be especially careful with products that are on sale, because many stores will not allow goods on sale to be exchanged. In most cases, however, sales are an excellent opportunity to buy quality products at reduced prices.

There is a great variety of shops in the U. S., ranging from very large stores called department stores, offering clothing, furniture, household goods and many other goods, to very small shops that specialize in just one kind of product. There are “discount houses” offering goods at low prices and “dime stores” specializing in a wide range of inexpensive items.

购物(二)

在美国有许多“降价甩卖”的机会，那时商店会降低商品价格。这也许会使旅游者困惑。有成百上千种选择，究竟买哪个最好？在买东西的时候，你怎么才能知道让自己的钱“花得值”？也许最好的建议是：别着急！逛一下各个商店，鉴别一下商品质量。仔细地查看物品。读一下广告以便比较价格。买之前仔细调查研究一下。对甩卖的商品仔细看一下是明智之举，因为许多商店都不允许退换甩卖商品。但是，绝大多数情况下，甩卖是购买物美价廉商品的好时机。

美国有各种各样的商店，大到百货商店，出售衣物、家具、居家用品和其他很多东西，小到专卖一种商品的小店。还有“折扣商店”，专卖价格低廉的货品，也有叫“一角店”的，专卖种类繁多的廉价物品。

1. Chinese Tea

(Scene: A customer wants to buy some tea for his family, so the shop assistant is recommending the Chinese tea to him.)

(A: Shop Assistant, C: Customer)

A: Good afternoon, sir. Can I help you?

C: Yes, I'm looking for some tea. What do you recommend?

A: How about Longjing tea? It is a first-class green tea. And it is fresh green, aromatic, sweet and smooth in appearance.

C: Wonderful. I'll take two tins. I still need some other kinds of Chinese tea. You know, we're a big family; every one has his own taste.

- A: We have a variety of Chinese teas. We have Qimen black tea, Wulong tea, and jasmine tea.
 C: Jasmine tea? What is it?
 A: It's a high quality green tea mixed with dried jasmine flowers. It has a wonderful fragrance.
 C: What else have you mentioned? Qi, black tea?
 A: Yes, Qimen black tea. It has a rich, sweet smell, fine both in appearance and in quality. It's one of the most famous black teas around the world.
 C: I was told there's a sort of Chinese tea which has a reducing effect. Is that so?
 A: Yes, that's Wulong tea. More and more foreign visitors, especially ladies, come to buy Wulong tea in order to keep fit. Wulong tea is very refreshing and helps you to get rid of tiredness.
 C: It's very kind of you to tell me all about it. I'll take three tins of each. Should I pay in cash?
 A: Not necessarily. Traveler's checks or Master Card will also do.

2. Chinese Medicine and Tonics

(A: Shop Assistant, C: Customer)

- A: Good afternoon, sir. Are you being attended to?
 C: No. Could you show me some highly nutritious tonics?
 A: Yes, of course. We have wild ginseng, Korean ginseng, young pilose antler, pearl powder, pearl oral liquid, ass-skin glue, tortoise-shell glue, gyrophora, white fungus, bird's nest, cordyceps, chicken essence with cordyceps. Do you want it for yourself?
 C: No, my wife has been suffering from a poor appetite and asthenia of the heart and lungs for years.
 A: I'm sorry to hear that. Please tell your wife not to worry too much, sir. I suggest she take cordyceps. (He shows him the cordyceps.)
 C: Ah, how queer it looks. What is it?
 A: It's a tonic only available in China, which can cure such ailments as anaemia. Most important, it has no side-effects.
 C: Good. I'll buy three boxes of it. Will you please tell me how to take it?
 A: Yes, sir. You may fill 3 or 5 pieces of cordyceps into a cleaned and chopped open duck's head and cook with the whole ducks or stew cordyceps with chicken.
 C: That sounds very interesting. I think I should suggest my wife to take it as a must for her daily diet.
 A: Please remind your wife not to eat turnip and garlic when taking this medicine.
 C: Thank you for your advice. How much is it?
 A: 168 yuan a box.

3. Chinese Local Flavor Food

C: No, can you recommend to us some Nanjing specialties?

A: Yes, sir. Will you try Nanjing Salted Duck? It's vacuum-packed and can be kept for a period of time. People here enjoy eating it and often buy Nanjing duck as presents to send to their relatives and friends.

C: That's great. I'll buy 2 bags.

A: Is there anything else you are interested in?

C: Yes. We're traveling to Xi'an tomorrow. We need some pickled cucumber and some other specialties for our journey to Xi'an.

A: Oh, in that case, I recommend you Yangzhou pickles and five flavored beans. Yangzhou pickles are well-known in China while five-flavored beans, Wu Xiang Dou, are one of Shanghai's specialties made by Yu Yuan Garden Bazaar.

C: OK. Get me two bags of Wu Xiang Dou and two bottles of Yangzhou pickles.

A: Here you are. Now, let me put them in the plastic bag. Please check the goods in the package. Will that do?

C: That's very thoughtful of you.

A: My pleasure.

Situational Dialogues

1. Chinese Seal Cutting, Calligraphy and Paintings

(Scene: A shop assistant is giving explanations about Chinese Seal Cutting, Calligraphy and Paintings to a customer who is puzzled about them.)

(A: Shop Assistant, C: Customer)

A: Good afternoon, sir and madam. What can I do for you?

C: Good afternoon. We feel puzzled about the use of so many little piece of hard and soft stones.

A: Engravers cut seals on them. Seal cutting, as one of the typical Chinese traditional arts, which also includes calligraphy and paintings, is very popular with the social elite. Nowadays, many foreign friends who are interested in Chinese culture are fond of having their own name-seals cut.

C: That sounds great. But I'm particularly interested in traditional Chinese paintings. People tell me that Chinese calligraphy and paintings are the gem of Chinese culture. But I wonder what's the difference between Western oil paintings and Chinese ink paintings.

A: Well, briefly speaking, Western oil paintings are created by colors and brush touches while traditional Chinese paintings are by lines and strokes. Traditional Chinese painting is a combination in the same picture of the arts of poetry, calligraphy, painting and seal engraving.

C: Thank you for your explanations. But are the pictures in your shop original or reproductions?

A: They're all reproductions. But they retain so well the vividness and charm of the original that it is difficult to tell which is the original and which is not.

(The customer is looking through the pictures.)

C: Good morning! I want to buy some traditional Chinese paintings.

A: OK, this way please. Here is an exhibition of Chinese traditional paintings. I hope you like it.

C: Marvelous!

A: Well, sir. I should say you've got artistic eyes. This is an imitation of the famous painting "Spring Outing" by Zhang Ziqian, a great artist of Sui Dynasty (581 A.D. -618 A. D.). Zhang's painting is the earliest painting of landscape we've discovered to this day. Would you like to buy it?

C: Yes. How much is it?

A: RMB 900 yuan.

C: That sounds reasonable. I'll take it. By the way, who painted this "Galloping Horse"?

A: Mr. Xu Beihong, one of the most famous painters of modern China. His paintings are characterized by typical Chinese features as well as certain techniques of oil paintings.

C: Wonderful. I'll take it too. Do you accept American Express credit cards?

A: Yes, we do.....Here is your invoice. Please keep it well.

C: Thank you.

2. The Four Treasure of Study

(Scene: A shop assistant is recommending the "Four Treasure of the Study" to a customer who wants to buy something special.)

(A: Shop Assistant, C: Customer)

A: Good afternoon, sir. What can I do for you?

C: Good afternoon. I'm leaving for Chicago tomorrow. I'd like to buy something special. Can you give me some suggestions?

A: My pleasure, sir. I suggest you taking something closely related to our ancient civilization. You may have heard that Chinese painting is closely related to the art of calligraphy. Both Chinese painters and calligraphers use black ink that can produce different shades and write brushes that can make many kinds of lines.

C: I was told that they are the so-called "Four Treasures of the Study". What are they?

A: Look here, sir. They are rice paper (Xuan paper), ink-brush, ink-slab, and ink-stick. You may take them as typical souvenirs from China.

C: Sounds interesting. Would you please give me some more details?

A: Sure. The "Four Treasures of the Study" was originally named for the rice paper produced in Xuancheng, ink-slab in Duanzhou, ink-brush in Huzhou and ink-stick in Huizhou. Xuan paper, honored as the "king of paper" and favored by Chinese artists, is soft and absorbent. It can bring the characteristic styles of Chinese paintings into full play. Duanzhou ink-slabs, also called Duan ink-slabs are the best among all the ink-slabs produced in China. It bears a tinge of purple in color, with exquisite veins and smooth jade-like appearance.

C: How nice! How about the ink-brush and the ink-stick?

A: Huzhou ink-brushes are famous for their material selection and elaborate craftsmanship. The materials for the brushes can be the wool of goats, hair of yellow weasels, of hares or a mixture. Huizhou ink-sticks are known as being "clear, moist, even and neat". The ink can always "stay firm keep its original touches once on paper".

C: That's very kind of you to give me such detailed explanations. But I'm afraid I can't write and paint with a writing brush, let alone using them in painting and calligraphy.

A: It doesn't matter. You can learn how to use an ink-brush.

C: I even don't know how to use ink-slabs and ink-sticks. Maybe I'm too old to learn any new tricks. Never have I dreamed that I could use an ink-brush someday.

A: One is never too old to learn, you know.

(The shop assistant shows how to make ink, how to grip the ink-brush and how to write with the brush.)

C: Ah, you are so persuasive. Please give me a dozen Huzhou ink-brushes, a Duan ink-slab and 40 sheets of Xuan paper. How much do they come to in all?

A: Just a moment, please...Oh, 790 yuan in all. I'll wrap them up for you.

3. Packing and Shipping

(Scene: A customer wants to send a set of porcelain and some embroidery to his friend, and the shop assistant is receiving him.)

(C: Customer, A: Shop Assistant)

- C: Where is the parcel counter please?
 A: May I ask what you are sending?
 C: A set of porcelain that I've bought for a friend.
 A: Will you open it for inspection?
 C: But I have just packed it up nicely. I don't want to spend the next hour repacking it.
 A: I'm sorry, but it is a question of security. That is the rule. We will just look into the box and will be very careful with it.
 C: OK, if that's the rule. In Rome, do as the Romans do, as they say.
 A: There is some embroidery here as well as the porcelain set.
 C: Right. They go with the set.
 A: You'll have to put them both on the form... Do you want to send it by air or surface mail?
 C: Airmail please. How much is it?
 A: That will be 72 yuan. Anything else?
 C: No, thank you.

Prices of Goods

Americans do not usually bargain over prices as is familiar in much of the world. What they do instead is to shop around to find the store which offers the item and quality they want at the lowest price. Almost everything sold in the United States varies in price according to the store and often the time of year. (just before Christmas the prices are often highest; lowest just after Christmas or during August when many stores have sales). Sometimes the price varies according to state or local taxes. Many people cross state lines to buy liquor, cigarettes, or automobiles, etc., because there are wide fluctuation in taxes in such items from state to state.

世界上大多数国家的人都在买东西时讲价,但美国人却不这样。他们的做法是四处转转,找一家商品质量最好、价格最低的商店。几乎所有在美国出售的商品的价格都会因时间和商店的不同而不同。(圣诞节前夕价格最高;圣诞节过后或8月的众多商家打折期间价格最低)。有时,价格也因州税和地方税的差异而不同。许多人经常跨州去购买酒、烟和汽车等商品,因为这些商品的税金在州与州之间有很大差别。
